No Frills, Says Hoover

GOVERNMENT without frills, run like an engineer's office, seems to be the Hoover plan. The President will not have military and naval aides to go with him wherever he goes to prove that he is head of the army and navy.

He is going to abolish much of the handshaking. He might well abolish it all.

There is no reason why Congress should have the right to bring their little droves of constituents to the White House, exhibiting the President to them, and compelling him to shake hands when he ought to be attending to business for which he was elected.

This promise to be strictly a business administration.

Wall Street is many things, but NOT dull.

Speculators that had been paying 20 per cent for borrowed money on Wednesday, could borrow yesterday morning for 15 per cent, and were quite happy. They almost thought "cheap money" had come back. Later in the day they borrowed at 10, and then 8 per cent, and their children for joy knew no bounds.

Little lamb heels went up in the air, and so did stock prices. Much talk filled the air of mergers, distributions of stock, and the trimmings that go with the Wall Street table d'hôte.

Plea signs all up and down the line.

The Federal Reserve, which hasn't quite succeeded in creating the panic that it seems to desire, tells banks they mustn't make brokers' loans, because their money is needed for "legitimate commercial customers."

That is plain nonsense.

It means that the Fed. Reserve will not lend only on good collateral, but on good collateral, too.

Commercial borrowing in New York is said to be very active. It is said to be very active. It is said to be very active.

Class A commercial paper is as scarce as white horses. If the Federal Reserve should drive the public out of the market, it would be a bad thing for banks, and worse for the nation's ability to finance its war debts.

Senator McNary, head of the committee on farm relief, asks John D. Rockefeller, Jr.; Henry Ford, Charles M. Schwab, J. P. Morgan, Paul M. Warburg and Owen D. Young to give advice. That interesting collection of farmers would probably tell the farmers first of all to organize business, eliminate lost motion and time, including an hour and a half for the hired man to harness and unharness the team. But Rockefeller, Schwab and Young decline to give advice. They are in Europe. The farmers will have to work out their problem.

Big oil men of America agree to a definite plan for preventing waste and reckless competition. Sir Henri Detering, manager and director of the Royal Dutch Shell, a sort of British Standard Oil, promises 100 per cent cooperation.

Europe also reports that United States steel plants will combine with European steel companies in a sort of an international trust to regulate prices and other things.

Once, in the good old "unchristian" days, a country swarmed and then died from a poor little trust that amounted to a poor little trust. It choked that trust, Standard Oil, into tiny pieces. Now each place is worth a billion. The trust fever has gone down, and men are talking calmly about a trust to include all steel plants in the United States and plants in the rest of the world. "We first endure, then play, then embrace."

Priest Shot at Church Door

THINK OF QUARREL WITH SPRING DEATHS

PRIEST'S SHOT CHICAGO

Chicago, March 29 (AP)—A Roman Catholic priest was shot three times and probably fatally wounded today by the father of two boys whom he had arrested for burglarizing his church.

The priest, Fr. C. A. Brennan, pastor of the Church of the Holy Ghost, on the West side, was shot in the church yard as he talked to several men by the boy's father, Ovidio Monna, who asked for the priest and when the minister replied he was in charge of the church handed him a pistol.

As Fr. Brennan started to read it, Kenna whipped out a letter, shot the clergyman in the head, and then fired two shots into his back as he fled. Monna fled to his home near the church where police armed with tear gas and riot guns arrested him.

The priest was sent to a hospital, where doctors said he probably would die.

Monna's two sons, John and Paul, were arrested in the boys' court today on charges of having stolen from the church.

Bright Skies Are In Prospect for Easter in Hub

Bright skies for Easter seemed not unlikely in the weatherman today. "Unsettled" was still the best forecast that could be given officially for the Sabbath, but the showers intensify predicted over the whole of the country likely to arrive in Boston on Saturday night, giving place to more sunnier conditions Sunday.

Forecast for Boston and vicinity: Fair and slightly warmer tonight. Sunday: partly cloudy with showers, followed by showers during night. Wednesday: wind and north-wind, becoming squally.

MRS. DODGE IN DEATH PROBE

Miami, Fla., March 29 (INS)—Mrs. J. H. Dodge, of Detroit, daughter-in-law of the automobile manufacturer, was summoned to appear at the inquest today on the death of D. D. Hennessy, 71, president of a Providence, R. I., oil company, killed by Mrs. Dodge's auto yesterday.

There is no charge against Mrs. Dodge. Witnesses said Hennessy was crossing the county causeway between Miami and Miami Beach when hit by the car.

Mrs. Dodge said she saw Hennessy and blew her auto horn several times, but that he failed to hear and was running against the side of her car.

LAY 2 DEATHS TO GIRL

Summonses were issued today in Roxbury court for Miss Mary M. Goode, 25, school teacher, of Center st., Roxbury, to appear April 1 and answer to two counts of manslaughter and one of reckless driving, as the result of the holy week tragedy which occurred near All Saints Church, Roxbury.

Miss Goode's car, loaded with teachers bound for church, struck and killed Miss Anna Tobin, 35, of Roxbury, and fatally injured Mrs. J. J. Donnelly, 60, of 105 Center st., who died at City Hospital.

TO ARREST MEMBER OF HOUSE

Chicago, March 29 (AP)—A warrant for the arrest of Congressman M. A. Mikolajewski, of Chicago, was issued today by U. S. Commissioner Edwin K. Walker.

The warrant was signed by Frank E. Wright, assistant agent, U. S. Bureau of Investigation, at Chicago, Mich. Mikolajewski was arrested at 10:30 a. m. and is being held at the Federal House of Detention.

Mikolajewski was charged with possession and transportation of liquor and importation of liquor without payment of revenue. The latter charge is a felony and carries with it a fine of $10,000 and a term of five years in prison.

DANISE FACES MORAL TRIAL

New York, March 29 (INS)—The charge of moral turpitude, which once haunted the Countess Calicourt, has been revealed as the reason behind the Department of Labor's attempt to deport Giuseppe Danise, star battone of the National Opera Company.

On a hearing scheduled in federal court on the petition filed by the Labor Department asking that Danise's citizenship be granted him in 1927, he revoked and that he be sent back to his native Italy.

The moral turpitude charge is the outgrowth of a divorce obtained by the baritone's wife when she charged she found him living with another woman.

REVEAL MEXICAN REBEL PLOT TO ASSASSINATE GEN. CALLES

El Paso, Texas, March 29 (AP)—A plot to kill Gen. Plutarco Calles, commander-in-chief of the federal forces suppressing the revolution in Mexico, was disclosed today by Enrique Lloera, Mexican consul here. According to Lloera, a telephone conversation between two rebel generals had been overheard in which it was revealed that Gen. Calles was the target of the plot. The rebels, the rebel leader ousted from Torreon by Calles, had planned agents in that city who were to assassinate the federal leader.

These deaths have been confirmed. Turn to Page 3, Column 1.

Body of Posthumous Youth, Missing Since Dec., Found in River

The body of Edward O'Rourke, 21, of South st., who disappeared from his home last December following a quarrel, was found today in Charles river, near the bridge, West Roxbury.

The medical examiner and police are conducting an investigation to determine whether the young man was a victim of foul play, suicide or accidental drowning.

Fully clothed and still wearing his personal effects, the body was discovered under the float of the Cannock Club by Anthony and Joseph Garza, 14 and 15, of West Roxbury.

The West Roxbury police were notified and Capt. James P. Connelley at once ordered a detail to guard the body while medical examination was made. The man was a victim of violence, and there was no identification. Turn to Page 3, Column 1.

TWO MEN HELD AS STABBERS

Two young men, one from New York and one from Roxbury, were under arrest today, charged with unlawful possession of a revolver. They were also questioned in connection with the stabbing of Max Sikolnick, Roxbury fur worker, who is in a dangerous condition at the City Hospital.

Sikolnick was attacked two days ago by two mysterious assailants as he walked along Elm Hill ave., Roxbury.

The men held are Charles G. Gribble, 25, of New York city, and Manuel Alvarez, 25, of Maple st., Roxbury. Both were arraigned before Judge Hyacinthe in Roxbury court and were held in $15,000 each for a hearing April 8.

MISSES DEATH BY WIRES

Sixty thousand volts of electricity from four power wires strangled the automobile of Dr. L. H. Taylor of Portland, Me., an aviation captain, early today when his car crashed into an electric light pole at West Main st. and Lakeside ave., Scarborough.

Fortunately, none of the wives came in contact with the automobile or the driver. The latter, cut about the face, had his injuries dressed and his car repaired and proceeded on his journey from Worcester to Boston after his narrow escape from death.

LYNN WOMAN HIT BY CAR

Miss Elizabeth McGrath, 45, of Robinson st., Lynn, was probably fatally injured when she was struck by a trolley car in front of the Sacred Heart church, Boston st., Lynn, today. Her name was placed on the danger list at the Lynn Hospital.

The operator of the car, Arthur Littlefield of Lynn, said Miss McGrath stepped from her hand automobile onto the tracks.

Bomb Maker, 4 Aides Die in Mexican Blast

Chetumal, Cal., March 29 (INS)—Franz von Schulenburg, a German bomb maker, his 15-year-old daughter, Blanche, and three Mexican soldiers were killed today in an explosion at the Mexican army garrison at Chetumal, across the border line.

ARLINGTON MAN BURNED RESCUING BABY GIRL

John F. Sheehan of Dover st., Arlington Heights, was dangerously burned today as he carried his baby daughter, Elizabeth, to safety after an exploding kitchen stove had set his home ablaze. A son, John, Jr., 14, also was burned about the face and hands. The father was taken to the Symmes Arlington Hospital.

WIDOW LEAPS INTO WELL

Mathew March 29 (ILL and correspondents, Mrs. Agnes Harshman, 73, a widow, died first into a 40-foot well at the rear of her home in Oak st., early today, and was drowned. According to her son, Ernest Harshman, his mother had threatened several times to end her life.

For six weeks, Harshman told police, his mother has been under medical treatment. Police pronounced the case "suicide."

armed by the enemy," the report concluded.

It was learned today that Alfredo Trepoles-Correa, a member of the Mexican Chamber of Deputies, and Viduola were arrested by a United States deputy marshal on suspicion of being "Mexican rebel spies" operating between Mexico and American soil.

The pair were being held for "investigation," the officer stated.

K. of C. Denies Aiding Rebels in Mexico Revolt

New Haven, Conn., March 23.—Charges made by the Mexican government officials that Knights of Columbus members were acting as spies for the rebels in that country were today branded as "baseless propaganda." K. of C. officials denounced the accusations as part of the Mexican government's program "for assailing Catholics."

This is only one of a series of attempts to charge Knights of Columbus in general and Catholics in particular with responsibility for the never-ending brawl in Mexico," declared Eugene E. McCarthy, William J. McGinley, of the K. of C. national headquarters.

Columbus, our magazine, has been barred from the Mexican mails, we have been unable to communicate with our members, and we have had no reports from countries in more than two years.

Durango is a big city. Several years ago we had 142 members there. How many have died in prison or been executed under the guile of law and order since that time I do not know.

At Grand Rapids, Mich., today, Martin F. Carmody, knight of the Knights of Columbus, denied that the order to proceed with revolutionary movement in Mexico, as charged by Governor Benitez of the State of Durango.

Federal Armies Advance Along Two Fronts

Mexico City, March 23 (INS)—Federal troops, advancing their northward advance against the rebels along two fronts today.

In Central Mexico, Gen. J. Andrés Almanan had penetrated beyond Escalante at the head of 10,000 troops. His expeditionary force in pursuing Gen. Escobedo's rebel band, now reported to have retreated to Santa Rosalia de Comarago, 45 miles north of Juarez.

On the West Coast, Gen. Lazaro Cardenas is moving northward to subjugate the rebels in Sinaloa and Sonora. His force of 12,000 men was north of Nacari, Nayarit, today. It will be augmented by the federal force of 2500 men in the federal garrison at Mazatlan, commanded by Gen. Carrillo, which that city is reached.

The rebels retreating before Gen. Almanan probably will make their next stand at Tacámula, some 30 miles south of Chihuahua City, it was believed here today.

According to reports received by President Pío Gil, the rebels plan to concentrate their forces at that point as it is easily defended. The Republic has a natural barrier on the north and west. Should the rebel concentration in the south assume formidable proportions, Gen. Plutarco Calles, Secretary of War, would order Federal troops from Torreon and Mazatlan to move against Almanan's expeditionary force.

Aviators attached to Almanan's army reported that the rebels located at Santa Rosalia de Comarago were thrown into great confusion by bombs which they dropped from their planes.

Five Killed by Bomb Explosion in Mexico

Nogales, Ariz., March 23 (AP)—Five persons lost their lives and three others were injured last night in an explosion that destroyed a federal bomb factory near Mazatlan, capital of the northern district of Baja California.

Franz Schulzberg, German bomb maker, his 17-year-old daughter, Blanche, and three Mexican federal soldiers on guard were killed. The blast resulted when a bomb exploded in the process of manufacture, touching off nine tons of explosive and 30 aerial bombs.

Allen's Plan to Avoid Veto Causes Clash

Governor Allen's apparent desire to serve the first year of his office without veto of a bill, led to the first clash of Legislature and executive office when Senator Warren E. Turrell of East Brookfield protested the attempt to kill a recalled bill which provides more compensation for district court judges sitting in Superior Court.

Senator Turrell succeeded in postponing action on the recall until next Tuesday. Then, it is probable that the desire of the governor will prevail with the killing of the measure.

Practices of recalling bills, after they have been sent to the governor for his signature, when it becomes apparent that he opposes them, has been marked this year. The spirit of cooperation between the executive and legislative branches this year has been so strong that there is apparently no intention on the part of the Republican majority to use the branches to put up to Governor Allen any measure which does not see fit to approve.

The bill over which Turrell protested would give the district court judges sitting in the superior court an increase from $30 to $40 a day.

Another bill recalled from Governor Allen was killed outright. It provided for reimbursing officers of the department of corporations and taxation for thefts of money from the income tax office in Cambridge and Fitchburg last year. In both these cases the offices were broken into at night, in Cambridge about $160 being taken and about $40 in Fitchburg for repairs.

J. S. SHIPPTS ROCK CRIME

Hankow, China, March 23 (AP)—The new American river gunboat Tutuila struck a submerged rock in the gorge of the upper Yangtze river today, near Wanhsien.

Two compartments were holed, but ship's pumps controlled the water inflow, and she will go to Shanghai for repairs.

Hankow, China, March 23 (AP)—Dispatches reporting the capture of Wanhsien by the Nanking forces have created a feeling of tension in the Whelan city, center of the opposition to the Nanking central government.

Reports came that the Nanking troops were advancing from Wanhsien and a sharp engagement was expected.

The nationalist government tonight officially denied reports that J. C. Chas. S. governor of Canton, had been executed.

N. H. SHOWS BIG ECONOMIES OF OPERATION

Common stock of the New York, New Haven & Hartford Railroad earned 8 1/2 cents during 1928, according to the annual report of the road made public today over the signature of Chairman Edward G. Buckingham of the board of directors.

At close of the year the road had a surplus of $18,859,000 after all charges, an increase of $4,055,247.

Passenger revenue continued to fall off, however, resulting in a 22-per-cent decrease in operating revenues. The total of operating revenues for the year was $127,633,052. The number of passengers "carried one mile" in 1928 was the lowest for any year since 1914.

During the year the regular dividends were paid on common stock in addition to the regular preferred stock dividends, and the report generally indicates that the road made a stride toward rehabilitation.

The road's earnings for the first six months of the year were $1,000,000, a decrease of $100,000 from the same period last year.

Abandons Hope for Plane and for Men

Washington, March 23 (AP)—Commander Roosevelt of the dirigible Los Angeles, after giving up the search for the Sikorsky airplane, planning since last Friday, informed the Navy Department that in view of the late hour of the day he had decided to return to the water. Aboard the plane were J. Raymond Fennimore of Rochester, N. Y., and three others.

Today, in the great eastern column of the dirigible, you will find scores of opportunities for profitable investment.

JONES LAWYER MAINTAINS ARREST

It is a maximum penitentiary sentence of two years and a fine of $500.

If Congressman Michaelson does not appear of his own accord, the warrant will be turned over to a deputy United States marshal for service.

Results resulted from the confiscation of a suitcase of liquor, part of Michaelson's baggage, brought from Congressmen's baggage.

He was standing in the Jacksonville railroad terminal when the suitcase began to leak. A state of emergency was proclaimed and the matter over to federal agents.

Michaelson Was Re-elected After Being Indicted by U. S.

Chicago, March 23 (INS)—After his indictment in Florida for violation of the Prohibition law, Representative Alfred Michaelson was permitted to return to Chicago.

He launched into a vigorous campaign for reelection, supported by the Anti-Saloon League by his dry utterances.

Had Michaelson foregone the "expedient" order he might have escaped prosecution by paying a small fine and permitting confiscation of his alleged liquor, he carried. It was pointed out.

Grandma Stone Loaf of Bread; Probation

Because her daughter, a widow with several children, needs food for her brood, Mrs. Elizabeth Cullen, 50, of Evans st., North Weymouth, stole a loaf of bread from a Weymouth store, she told the probation officer in Quincy court.

The grandmother pleaded guilty to the charge of larceny and was placed on probation for one year.

Preacher of 16,000 Sermons Is Dead

London, March 23 (INS)—The Rev. Frederick E. Meyer, famous non-conformist preacher, who was planning a 10,000-mile preaching tour through the United States and Canada, died today of pneumonia at his home in Beaumont.

He is credited with having preached nearly 16,000 sermons. In 1911, he led the agitation which resulted in the founding of the London Bombseller's Union, English heavy and Jack Johnson, the American negro.

Hundreds of the Italian nobility although loyal Catholics, have been denied the privilege of a Vatican audience because they are regarded themselves politically on the side of the united kingdom, while on the other side the "Black" are (constantly made themselves eligible for Italian court functions by enjoining the pope to the Vatican. Radio Saves Smoke Victim

Chatham, Mass. (INS)—Prompt action in the transmission by radio of a message today saved the life of a seaman aboard the steamship Bergenaria, 200 miles off the coast.

According to the operator of the radio Corporation of America wireless station here, the Bergenaria was en route to New York, when a seaman was bitten by a pole mouse snake which he carried on his person to the Bronx (N. Y.) 200, and asked for medical information regarding a remedy.

The radio station was in telegraphic communication with the physician at the sea in New York, and after minutes after the request the remedy was spitting through the ether.

SECRETS IN FINGERPRINTS

Hartford, Conn., March 23 (AP)—Authorities investigating efforts left by Harry E. Adams, found dead from an overdose of an anesthetic, today were piecing together his diary to learn of his movements in the last few years.

The diary tells of his interest in Buddhism, his desire for reading murder mysteries and a craving for pleasure. Nearly every page made in his private diary spoke of reading mystery or murder stories or prose or poetry relating to Buddhism. He also made up to Buddhism, a life also made up to Buddhism.

Adams' interest in Buddhism is revealed in a little book in which he wrote the following:

"Christians see Buddhism as pessimism. What of it? A cheerful pessimist is better than an optimistic with a perpetual worry."

Further about his diary wrote "Wouldn't it be better to spend one's time after death making a couple board wages than to spend all eternally twanging a harp?"

At the same time Capt. Smith, who recalled the reported disappearance of a young man in January, H. Gurney, 25, formerly of Boston, December 4 of last year, following a breakup with his sweetheart, who lives in Lowell. His disappearance was not reported to the police until January 23, however, nearly two months later.

With Medical Examiner Leary, who in the meantime ordered the body to the Southern Mortuary, Boston's medical examiner is endeavoring to determine the cause of death.

It was learned that the young man disappeared from his home December 4 of last year, following a breakup with his sweetheart, who lives in Lowell. His disappearance was not reported to the police until January 23, however, nearly two months later.

$20,000,000 in Movie Merger

Los Angeles, March 23 (AP)—Merger of all United States motion picture companies, studios and theaters into an organization capitalized at approximately $20,000,000, under way, Joseph M. Schenck, president of United Artists, announced.

Sale of one-half interest in the combination to Warner Brothers is being negotiated, Schenck said.

The merger, which Schenck said is certain to bring together the companies of Gloria Swanson, Charles Chaplin, D. W. Griffith, Samuel Goldwyn, Douglas Fairbanks, and others, is being handled by Schenck, Schenck Feature Productions, the United Artists, and the Art Cinema Company.

Davidson at first thought that the door had been closed and the man could not well have placed the revolver in his hand. Davidson was found on the running board, Special Investigator Maurice W. Gurney was sitting beside him.

Gurney was just breathing when Davidson shot him. Davidson shot him in the chest, and he was taken to the General Hospital where he was treated for his wounds.

His wife, Mrs. H. K. Kelley, superintendent of the Prudential Company, where Gurney was employed, said that the man's accounts were satisfactory. She said that he was a man of good character, and that he was a man of good character, and that he was a man of good character.

Judge Raps Police Head

Judge Robert Walker in East Cambridge district court today censured Capt. Timothy F. Leash of Station 3, Cambridge, for estimating the speed of autoists captured in a trap on the Northern Artery on March 20.

Thirty-one out of 35 defendants pleaded guilty and were fined $5 each for speeding. The four defendants, including Mrs. Mildred E. Spear of Cambridge, N. Beach Bay, pleaded not guilty and were acquitted.

Mrs. Spear told the court she had her two children in the car with her and was making only 25 miles an hour. She said that she was traveling at 40 miles and was asked by Judge Walker if she determined the speed, said he estimated it. Judge Walker said he found a better means of checking up an speeder.

Crash Ties Up Trolley Service

One man was slightly injured and street car traffic between Dudley and Northwood was tied up for more than an hour when two trucks crashed on the Boston Providence street car line, snapping off a telegraph pole.

The accident occurred when a truck of the Federal Trolley & Apcon Co., of 60 Bristol st., Boston, and a truck of the Federal Trolley & Apcon Co., of 60 Bristol st., Boston, crashed on the street car line, snapping off a telegraph pole.

GRIM BARES THIRTEEN LIFE OF FIREMEN

ARMY OF DEAD 'SMOKE EATERS' WELL DRILLED

By HELEN COOLIDGE

Nowhere down in the dark recesses a hammer clinks on muffled brass. Pumps turn over in cost and number. There's a gong clangs steadily, light flash, men wriggle into garments, vault through the four-and go out into the storm-bitten, freezing night riding ardent chariots.

High on a ladder whose ends already are charged, a grimy-faced man swings a still form through a window in waiting arena, follows, descends—and collapses.

Down on a floor with a steaming pall by his side a man swishes soap circles and whistles, "I'll be by," etc. And upstairs other men man beds with sturdy covers that display the startling definiteness of stilled chambermaids.

LIFE NOT ALL THRILLS

Once a fireman always a fireman. And I learned about a day spent with Chief Daniel F. Bennett in the new Broadway engine house.

I learned that a fireman's life isn't all thrills and that the thrilling, dramatic, public side is only the front of the picture.

The Boston fire department, with its 1100 members, is like a big army. The firemen must be carefully trained to battle fires, as the public is trained to fight them.

Chief Bennett's office, in the Broadway engine house, is a room with photo graphs of some of the biggest fires he has handled. He has a special unit of photographs showing one of the room is a painting of a forest fire.

CELEBRATE FIRES WORST.

"A fire like this is a terrible thing to fight when you're a long day from a water supply," said the chief, as he showed me the picture.

"I think these automatic cigarette lighters are going to put a stop to many of these forest fires. A great number of them are caused by men throwing down matches before the heat has died out."

"A cellar fire is by far the worst. There's no ventilation, no way for the smoke to get out. It's harder on the men than any other kind of a fire."

At the alarm headquarters the chief got in touch with one of the department's firemen by radio and talked with them. There are three of these headquarters, each with a crew of 20 men. They can be reached anywhere at any time by radio and whenever there is a fire on one of the islands or along the waterfront.

There's no end of danger in the service of the fire department. But in spite of this, each of the firemen has another job can satisfy him. That's what Chief Bennett says, and after 47 years in the department he ought to know.

Jury Disagrees on $150,000 Balm Suit

Manchester, N. H., March 29.—After an all-night session, the jury in the $150,000 allegation of affection suit brought in Hillsboro Superior Court by Mrs. Leonide Chouinard of this city against Mrs. Ethel Hunter of Henniker failed to agree on a verdict and was discharged by Justice Joseph S. Matthews.

Good Friday Is Black Friday in Many Countries

Good Friday is known as Black Friday in some countries because of the black vestments and draperies in the churches.

It is widely believed that the notorious "Black Friday" in the United States when Jay Gould cornered wheat in gold country on Good Friday and that for that reason the stock exchange closes on this day. This is erroneous, as Gould's Black Friday was on September 14, 1898.

There are three other financial Black Fridays—December 8, 1745, when Charles Edward, pretender to the English throne, landed at Derby, creating a business panic; May 11, 1856, when the London firm of Overend, Gurney & Co. failed, causing widespread ruin; and September 18, 1915, when numerous failures occurred on the New York Stock Exchange, precipitating the panic of 1917.

BALK SINN FEIN EASTER MEETS

Belfast, March 29 (AP)—The Ulster Government has taken drastic measures with so-called Extreme Sinn Feiners in Northern Ireland, the latter having arranged meetings for Easter Monday in the large centers to commemorate the 1916 rebellion.

Declaring there was every reason to believe that holding these assemblies would lead to grave disorder and promote disaffection, Sir Denham Bates, Home Secretary, announced that there would be no police at these gatherings.

Lita Grey Chaplin's Father Is Dead at 85

Berkeley, Cal., March 29 (INS)—Thomas McCarthy, grandfather of Lita Grey Chaplin, former wife of Charlie Chaplin, is dead here at the age of 85.

Committee Favors Assistant to Parker

A bill authorizing Registrar of Motor Vehicles Parker to appoint and fix the salary of an assistant registrar was favorably reported in the House today by the committee on ways and means. The head administrative clerk in the registrar's office, it is noted, was paid $10,000 a year.

Store Clerk, Ill, Dies on Way to Hospital

Benjamin Aulso, 45, of 78 Summer St., Cambridge, was stricken ill at a store at 118 Commercial St. where he was employed, today. He was removed to Haymarket Hotel and pronounced dead on arrival.

Mrs. Revell Is Arrested in New York

Mrs. Marion C. Revell, the former Marion Cornell of Allston and Marion Voss of the stage, is under arrest today in New York after a street battle with the husband who divorced her yesterday.

The husband, Fleming H. Revell, Jr., who divorced her yesterday, was charged with molesting her when he left the house, he said, she began an argument that culminated in her leaving for him and attempting to beat him.

The publisher broke away from the woman and re-entered the house from where he telephoned police.

Mrs. Revell protested the arrest, declaring she had come to see her publisher, Muriel, in custody whom was awarded the right of the custody of their daughter, to become final in 10 days.

When Mr. Revell's chauffeur, William Keefe, was arrested, she was arrested on complaint of his wife, but she did not protest the arrest and was released.

In his divorce bill, one of the allegations made by Revell was that he found his wife and his discharged chauffeur drinking together in the Chinese room of the Revell Mansion at Great Neck, L. I.

He sued for divorce last November and Mrs. Revell retaliated with a counter suit, charging desertion and cruelty and $100,000 annual fee.

In her petition she set forth the former Lawrenceville and Yale track star was worth more than $1,000,000 and had an income of $50,000 a year.

The element of the couple just after Revell finished up at Yale and was arrested on complaint of his wife, but she did not protest the arrest and was released.

Revell refused for days to forgive his wife and she was released, however, and the couple spent their honeymoon at the Revell family home at 242 Madison St., New York.

FACES TRIMMED GIRLS CHARGES MONDAY

While planning his defense for his trial next week in Suffolk Superior Court, on charges brought by a girl, Guy Willis Holmes, unfrocked New Bedford pastor, today announced he was planning suits for $50,000 each, alleging defamation of character, against three ministers, one of them one of the best known Methodist clergymen in New England.

Attachments in the proposed suits have already been filed on the property of the Rev. Robert L. Roberts of New Bedford, superintendent of the New Bedford district of the Southern New England Conference of the Methodist church; Rev. Harold Critchlow of Williamstown, Mass., and the Rev. Raymond Ribbard of Oyster River, N. H.

One trio, an Holmes charge, brought about his dismissal from the church. He says he intends to sue them in the New Bedford court.

ON TRIAL MONDAY

Holmes goes on trial Monday on a charge of being the father of a baby, now dead, born to Antoinette Fortin, former New Bedford tea-room waitress, according to Just. Diet-Atty. William J. McDonnell. The unfrocked minister will also be tried at the same time. Holmes, now in jail, is charged with the murder of a girl, now dead, born to Antoinette Fortin, former New Bedford tea-room waitress, according to Just. Diet-Atty. William J. McDonnell.

The police of several attachments covering the proposed suit marks another chapter in the turbulent developments which have followed in the wake of the first Holmes case against Holmes.

The charges resulted in a bitter battle between the ministers who heard the charges and Holmes. Holmes was specifically charged with "immorality and unministerial conduct."

SEVERAL APPEALS

He vehemently denied the charges, stated that he was the victim of a plot to ruin him, and offered all witnesses in his defense, but was found guilty by the board of ministers which heard the charges and ordered unfrocked.

Head of Twelfth Night Club Dead

New York, March 29 (AP)—Florence Rittenhouse, actress and president of the 12th Night Club, died of pneumonia last night at the age of 38. Burial will be in Philadelphia, her birthplace.

Miss Rittenhouse, in private life, began her stage career in Philadelphia and played for years in stock, appearing in the Pull and Stuart Walker companies. She was probably best known for her part in "The Shame Woman" here.

Poor Woman—Is All They've Jailed in Rothstein Case

New York, March 29 (AP)—A $40-a-week scrubwoman today of the many persons rounded up in the playing of Arnold Rothstein, notorious Broadway gambler, alone remains in custody.

Mere chance placed Bridget Parry in the third-floor corridor of the Park Central Hotel two hours or so before Rothstein was lured to room 302 and shot down on the night of November 4.

Taken into custody as a material witness, she has been held in jail, a hospital and an immigration station, unable to raise the $5000 bail necessary to obtain her freedom.

Measurably, scores of other—racketeers, chorus girls, gamblers, bootleggers and gunmen—have found their way both in and out of jail. Some, held merely on suspicion, have been released without legal formality. Others were freed by the courts.

The gambling trial of "Rothstein" Thompson, Ben Raymond and Jimmy McMan walked out under $100,000 bail each, while George McManus, indicted for the murder, was freed from Tombs jail Wednesday under $50,000 bail because the State failed to bring him in.

Bridget, however, finds some solace in her predicament in venting a stream of invective against Dick Aulso, Boston and the police department.

"I don't think there is a name she hasn't called me," said Mr. Aulso, "but she is comfortable, more comfortable than she has ever been, I dare say, and we are taking good care of her."

THOUSANDS AT GOOD FRIDAY SERVICES

GOOSE'S GOOD EASTER EGGS IN HUB 30C. EACH

Greater Boston folk who plan to follow long-established tradition by breakfasting on goose eggs Easter morning can do so again this year—at 20 cents an egg.

Goose forever as the happy days when Mrs. Goose left her famous food product lying casually around the happy.

The nationwide distribution of goose eggs this spring, doesn't mean dozens when he says, "How many?"

Orders of two goose eggs were reported as not uncommon and thrifty housewives frequently compromise on "just one for the little boy."

DICK EGGS CHEAPER

Dick eggs seemed today to be far more eligible as a commodity Easter morning institution. They were selling at the comparatively modern price of 8 cents each at 20 cents a dozen.

For families whose children are addicted to the ancient and honorable custom of competing in egg-eating contests the ben comes into her own.

Plain, common, ordinary everyday eggs were obtainable for as little as 4 cents a dozen in the downtown market. Strictly fresh, "hatched" eggs were priced at 10 cents and up.

EGGS AFFINITY CHEAP

Eggs may be famous now, but pigs, fortunately, seem still to be the most popular of the Easter morning eggs with the Shantone town are to each other, was not prohibitively expensive anywhere.

Prices for whole hams went as low as 20 cents a pound, and for 20 and 30 cent a pound fancy ham in slices was available.

JUDGE BRACKETT DECLARES U. S. INCOME TAX IS UNJUST

That the federal income tax, as it now stands, works a severe hardship on the family man and should be revised is the opinion of Judge J. Albert Brackett of Boston municipal court.

Judge Brackett believes the law should be amended so far as it applies to earned income, in order that the man of small earning capacity may be relieved of some of the present burden.

The judge believes the present nationwide movement for a revision of the law, which is being supported by many newspapers throughout the country, should bear fruit.

REVISION URGED

"Bearing in mind that taxation has appreciably increased the cost of living and that in meeting this cost every individual pays his share, we can see how the present law allowing a more just exemption of the man of small income."

"This class, which includes largely all citizens on a salary, have nothing which they can charge out of their salaries in the way of expense to bring any relief."

A man with a family and children is obliged to pay in these days for living quarters a considerable sum for rent. Children must be educated and a standard of dress compels the parents to send their children to school looking as well as possible.

"Sickness, a common occurrence, untold expenses attributable to the needs of everyday life, insurance for protection against death and illness, together with a margin, allowing something for reasonable enjoyment outside of the bare necessities of existence, are matters to be fairly considered."

WORKS HARSHLY

"As the law now stands, it certainly works a hardship and places reasonable revision, in the opinion of those so placed as being unable to increase their earning capacity, and yet faced with the need of meeting the necessities which arise in the bringing-up of a family. This is so apparent it

Sign This and Cut Your Taxes

To the Congress of the United States:

THE undersigned respectfully urges that Congress give immediate consideration to the proposition that there be a downward revision of all taxes on earned incomes.

This is urged because in many instances earners of salaries, wages, fees or commissions for personal services have only a few years of good incomes, and prior to and after that period have substantially smaller incomes.

Their period of better earnings, which might give them a chance to accumulate some savings, is heavily taxed. Labor in general, clerical workers, salesmen, lawyers, doctors, engineers, architects, journalists, accountants, actors, musicians, singers and members of all other professions are in the same plight in the matter of earned incomes, as compared with earnings on capital.

The use of my name on a petition to Congress is hereby granted.

HOLLYWOOD DAY RADIO HEADS IN COURT AT LOS ANGELES

Los Angeles, March 29 (AP)—It was "Hollywood day" in the courts here yesterday, with motion picture actresses and a director figuring in four cases.

William Nigh, director, settled for $5000 a $20,000 suit brought by Leonard Benedict. Benedict had charged that Nigh, armed and posing as an officer, took him for a drive and "suggested" that he sever his association with Jean Harlow, screen actress, greatly humiliating him.

Rita Carraway, Rita Darnell and others of the movie colony testified in municipal court that Ralph Campbell had taken advantage of their acquaintance by burglarizing their homes. They were held for Superior Court under $20,000 bond.

Mother of 5 Who Lost $11 Gets Gifts of $48

Four more persons lent a hand today toward making this Easter not too bleak a holiday for Mrs. Margaret Hanson, working mother whose loss of her purse and her week's pay threatened hunger and hardship for herself and her family of five children and a convalescent husband.

Having read the published story of Mrs. Hanson's hard luck, the four sympathizers all mailed cash gifts to the Boston Evening American to be turned over to the mother to make good her vanished $10 fortune.

"A True Friend," Belmont, sent a dollar "to buy that blouse for Mrs. Hanson's little boy." "The Man with the White Camellia" sent a $5 bill "just to help." A Brighton woman contributed $10 to brighten Mrs. Hanson's Easter. A man who refused to be identified in any way brought

Mischka Levitzki Unusually Boyish

When Mischka Levitzki, 11 months old, plays at Symphony Hall Sunday afternoon, local music lovers may realize that behind his great art there is also a warm and simple human personality.

Away from the concert platform Levitzki is unusually boyish. He is full of life, and he has a hearty laugh often remarked upon by his friends. He is extremely fond of dancing and is a great admirer of jazz in its proper time and place.

He is not a "classical highbrow." In spite of the fact that his own programs are as a rule built along classical lines. He even consents to play jazz himself when the proper occasion presents itself.

"Mischka is golden" is truly spoken of Cleveland Wood. He is not only a lot of air—Miss Bates.

WARREN BROS. SHARE PLAN IS RENEWED

London, March 29 (AP)—A strong protest against a proposed settlement of the dispute over the new stock issue of 1,000,000 shares of the British General Electric Company has been received from Thomas L. Chadbourne and Herbert Bayard Swope, who are now en route to England to meet the liner Aquitania as representatives of American shareholders in the company.

When the new issue was first decided upon, it was restricted entirely to British subjects and Mr. Chadbourne and Mr. Swope went to England to take up the matter. Yesterday stockholders of the General Electric approved the issue of new shares to all shareholders under the condition that all foreign shareholders must dispose of their rights in the new issue within a given period.

News of this action was sent to the American committee in London. A reply, sent by Mr. Chadbourne and Mr. Swope, was addressed to Sir Hugo, said:

"We are surprised at the discourtesy shown American stockholders in holding a meeting while our representatives are en route for a conference which you said you welcomed. Further, we are surprised at the persistence in plans which do not involve us, and against which we must fight. It works to deprive American stockholders of important property rights. We have full power to act and we adhere to the principle that the new financing give full property protection to all stockholders, which rule has ever been maintained without exception in both British and American enterprises."

GIRL CONTESTS MAYNARD'S WILL

Barred under the will of her aunt, Mary H. Miller of Winchester, from entering the aunt's house, and also cut off without a bequest, Mrs. May D. Dunn of Albany, N. Y., has filed suit in Middlesex Superior Court against the aunt's estate.

The suit is for $10,000 and the estate is valued at $117,000.

The niece charges that the money is due her for services rendered the aunt and for damages.

In the suit she claims that her aunt, in consideration of services to be performed, promised to will her $5000, jewelry and a house at South. She claims that she performed the services, but that her aunt did not bequeath the property to her.

Mrs. Dunn also claims that the estate owes her $5000 for services and attendance which she rendered to her aunt in 1905 and 1906, and to 1924. She claims $500 a week for house services, and she also asks for $5000 for services rendered on a trip to Florida, with her aunt.

Included in her claim against the estate is one of another niece, Miss Mattie B. Parker of Oakland, Cal., who alleges that Mrs. Miller owed her for services which included traveling from California to Boston.

Former Parishioners of Church to Dance

Some 1500 present and former parishioners of the Church of Our Lady of Pompeii, South End, will gather at the State Ballroom on Monday evening for their annual reunion and dance.

Special novelty features have been arranged and it is believed that the affair will surpass all previous get-togethers sponsored by the Italian parish. Proceeds will be devoted to the maintenance fund of the parish settlement house.

Marquis Agostino Ferraris, Italian consul in Boston, is acting as honorary chairman. Sebastian Smellie is active chairman. Assisting him are Louise Gemelli, Mary Ambrosini, Tina DiGiacomo, Mrs. Theresa Prince, Mrs. Giustina Gregory, Mrs. Teclina Gullit, Mrs. Rose Dini, Sadie Rizzo, Grace Rizzo, Frances Spadaro, Rose Nazario, Josephine Martorana, Mrs. Eleanor Pallotti, Lea Lentini, Marquette Ferraris, Clara Forte, Nicholas La Torraca, William Norton, Joseph Perrone, John Dini, Joseph Bella and Henry Pallotti.

Girl Raffles With Red Coat Sought

Cambridge police were searching for a young woman Raffles following a report that a young woman, wearing a bright red coat, had been seen entering the home of Mrs. Margaret Buckley at 600 Green st., Cambridge, through a window. A squad was rushed to the house, but found no trace that anyone had been in the house.

Build New Stands

Worcester, March 29—Worcester Tech Athletic Council made announcement that a new section of football stands accommodating 1000 people will be erected on the athletic field.

Galley Sunk 19 Centuries Seen in Italian Lake

Nemi, Italy, March 29 (AP)—The stern of a Roman galley which cruised Lake Nemi, Diana's "Mirror," in the days of Cleopatra, could be discerned through semi-limpid waters of the lake today as pumps lowered them to their level in the days of the first Caesar.

From what was visible it could be seen that 19 centuries under water had damaged it considerably, and that probably there were left only traces of the elaborate ornamentation which archaeologists wished to study.

As the level of the lake has been lowered, various other objects, discovered on the bottom, relics of early Roman life, have been discovered. Originally encased in the mud, they are now exposed on the shores of the lake and either gradually submerged as the level of the water rose or thrown into it by passing invaders in later centuries.

BLIMP HURLED A MILE; 2 HURT USE DYNAMITE ON ICE JAM

Naval Air Station, Lakehurst, N. J., March 29 (AP)—An army blimp was a target of wreckage today due to its rude reception by Jersey coast winds while on a visit from Langley Field, Va.

The army non-rigid dirigible TC-5 was torn from the grasp of a ground crew of 100 and hurled nearly a mile by a gust of wind that struck it while it was being walked into the hangar.

Capt. John McCullough, commander of the blimp, and a steerman of the landing crew were slightly injured.

Blamrock, N. D., March 29—With 10,000 pounds of dynamite, a crew of 30 men prepared for blasting the ice today at Mandan, in an effort to break up the worst ice gorge on the Missouri river in all its history. Further along the river, after defying all efforts of army men for a week, the ice jam seemed to be weakening.

That conditions were improving was shown by the slowly dropping water level of the river at many places.

Special Badges for Broadcasters

San Francisco, March 29—By order of the San Francisco police commissioners, five "radio badges" have been allotted each broadcast station here. The badges carry the same privileges as those of the press.

Radio station managers, publicity men and program directors will be permitted to enter fire lines as well as police lines. Chief of Police W. J. Quinn, in issuing the badges, said that the police had recognized the value of radio in hunting down the arms and body.

Les was found unconscious at the bottom of the stairs and apparently there were no witnesses to the accident. It is believed that he fell head-first.

Man Injured by Fall Down El Stairs

Martin Lee, 33, married, of 9 West 3d st., South Boston, is on the danger list at the City Hospital as a result of injuries suffered when he fell on the stairs leading to the Boston Elevated structure at the South Station. He received a fracture of the skull and contusions and abrasions of the arms and body.

Les was found unconscious at the bottom of the stairs and apparently there were no witnesses to the accident. It is believed that he fell head-first.

Judge as Tortoise Wins Race With Hare

Orange, N. J., March 29 (AP)—Ralph Giordano, deputy police judge, weight 225, is an Elk who took the part of the tortoise in 10-race with the hare. At the lodge he let James H. Driscoll, weight 135, on a 10-mile run, the latter to give $200 to charity. Driscoll was asleep at the starting line, 3 a. m., and the judge, in running 10 miles, covered the course alone.

Mystery Shine King Pays $30,150 Just to Black Shoes

New York, March 29 (AP)—There's a mysterious "hothead king" in town, such a magnate that his hanker can pay the city $30,150 a year for the shine concession on Staten Island ferries. The king has been so busy in conference that he has been unable to relieve curiosity about himself.

Sheriff-Elect Under Knife

Manchester, N. H., March 29 (AP)—Sheriff-elect Richard M. O'Dowd, who takes office Monday, was suddenly stricken with appendicitis and rushed to Sacred Heart Hospital, where he was operated on. At the hospital tonight it is said that he might be able to be sworn in as sheriff while on his hospital bed Monday. Sheriff O'Dowd succeeds his father as sheriff, the elder O'Dowd retiring because of age limitations.

Little Sister Takes Tot on 'Spree'; Now Sorry

Collette George, nine, and her brother Simon, seven, of London st., East Boston, went adventuring yesterday and as a result Collette is sadder but wiser young woman today.

The mother, Mrs. Beatrice George, being ill, the children were sent to church alone for Thursday services. At their conclusion Collette took Simon to the East Boston court and was given $4, a weekly payment which the court ordered her father to make to her mother in separating proceedings some time ago.

Owing to the illness of Mrs. George, the little girl has been accustomed to collecting the money each week, and the court officers turned it over to her on receipt without question.

Then Collette, according to the police, took Simon to a shoe store and outfitted both with shoes at a cost of $8.55.

Then they had breakfast in a nearby restaurant, and spent the remainder of the money for candy and toys.

Afraid to go home when she realized what she had done, Collette, with Simon clutching her hand, called on her aunt, Mrs. Collette Nolan, at Brookline and Princeton sts., and said that as her mother was visiting, the children had come to stay awhile.

In the meantime Mrs. George, hysterical over the failure of the children to return home, had notified the police.

The little boy and girl remained at the aunt's for several hours, but when Mrs. George failed to call for them, Mrs. Nolan took them home, and explanations were in order. Collette took her hands standing up today.

3 Unhurt as Mail Plane Forced Down

Brandon, Vt., March 29—A Colonial Airways mail plane, flying from New York to Montreal, was forced down here today after the pilot had lost his way in a fog. The plane was damaged, hitting a tree on an attempted takeoff. The pilot and two passengers were unhurt. Twenty sacks of mail were forwarded by train.

The plane, left New York at 7 a. m., piloted by J. C. Deeter of Elizabeth, N. J.

Chicago barbers have raised the price of haircuts to 51-cent and for that matter if they're not raising prices in the racketeering city, they're raising haircuts—but in Boston the 50-cent hair cut is here to stay.

No less authorities than Charles E. O'Donnell and Charles Camber, president of the two Boston local barbers unions make this reassuring announcement.

Warrant Issued in Fatal Crash

A warrant charging manslaughter was issued in Central Municipal Court for Michael De Leo, 17, of 32 Lowell st., West End, driver of the car that killed a man and injured six other persons in Keany st., Wednesday night.

De Leo is charged with manslaughter, operating without a license and with going away from the scene of an accident without making himself known. Police are holding the warrants until the youth is released from City Hospital.

Weston Chief Quits After Thirty Years

Patrick J. McAuliffe, who came into prominence through his connection with the famous Mabel Page murder case in 1904, has retired as chief of the Weston police, after being on the job 30 years.

Policeman Praised for Hit-Run Capture

Mayor Cassano of Revere today commended Patrolman James L. Duggan, wagon driver for the local police department, for his work in capturing James Marley, 28, of that city, an alleged hit-and-run driver. Duggan, in the patrol, pursued Marley in a speeding automobile, capturing him at the point of a gun after his car had struck a butcher truck, injuring two men and himself.

ONLY 3 DAYS FOR TYPICAL GIRL NOMINATIONS

Just three days more!

Three days until the Quest is over—that is, the nominating, part—and judging begins in the search for the Typical American Girl being conducted by Smart Set Magazine and the Boston Evening American, together with other Hearst newspapers.

Not long from now, we'll announce the name of the Typical New England Girl who will receive the special award of $10,000. And then comes the selection by the National Committee, of the Typical American Girl who will receive the special award of $10,000. From the national winner, assembled from all parts of the country, she will receive $10,000 from Smart Set Magazine.

But nominations must be mailed to the Quest Editor before midnight, Sunday, March 31. If convenient, photographs should be submitted with the nomination.

DANVERS GIRL

But if the candidate hasn't a photo available, she may have a portrait made without charge by calling the Quest Editor at the Boston Evening American, 5 Winter Street, Boston.

Saturday is the final day that candidates' photographs can be taken.

Nominations continue to pour in from all parts of New England. The Charles C. O'Connell of 15 Bay View Ave., Danvers, has nominated Miss Ruth A. Clark, who writes the following:

"I would like to nominate Miss Ruth A. Clark in your Typical American Girl Quest. She is a brunette with long wavy hair and of fair coloring, height 5 feet 8 inches, weight 110 lbs., age 22 years and has a college education and is private secretary to the head of one of the broadcasting stations. Her favorite athletic activities are dancing and swimming. She is very much liked in her social life."

ANOTHER TEACHER

From Warner N. H. comes the nomination of Miss Myrtle B. Annis. She is proposed by Mrs. W. R. Hall, who writes as follows:

"I wish to nominate Miss Myrtle B. Annis of Warner N. H. who is 5 feet 5 inches, weighs 122 pounds. She is a brunette with long brown hair, brown eyes and good complexion. She is a graduate of the Poyworth Normal School of which she was an honor student. She has been a successful teacher for three years. She is athletic, plays basketball, skates, swims, rows and hikes. She takes a great interest in all social activities and has taken active part in amateur theatricals."

U. S. CLAIMS 24 MILLIONS FOR WAR BLASTS

Washington, March 29 (AP)—American and German agents plan to lay the $24,000,000 sabotage claims of the United States against Germany before the mixed claims commission next Wednesday.

The claims are for damages for fires and explosions at the Lehigh Valley Railroad Terminal, Black Tom, near Jersey City, in 1916, and at the assembly plant of the Canadian Car and Foundry Co., at Kingston, N. J., in 1917.

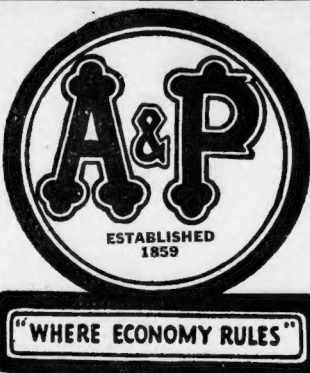

Millions of dollars' worth of munitions and other property was destroyed.

Robert W. Boyne, American agent, will present oral arguments, asserting the explosions were caused in behalf of the Imperial German Government.

Dr. Karl von Lewinski, German agent, will deny responsibility of Germany in the disasters.

Grand Jury Fails to End Quaker City 'Racketeers'

Philadelphia, March 29 (AP)—After seven months' investigation, Philadelphia's "racketeers" grand jury has passed from existence without accomplishing its primary purpose—the breaking up of gang warfare and organized banditry.

In its final presentation to Judge Lewis, the grand jury said the problem still remained. The deplorable situation that existed and continued this investigation, the presentation stated, "will arise again unless a government of law and order, respect for constituted authority, honest and vigilant officials, by public office and a police department, unhampered by political control."

The grand jurors also stated that they had been unable to find evidence with which to indict Max ("Boo Boo") Hoff, was early in the investigation was characterized by District Attorney Mungahan as "king of the racketeers."

Before discharging the jurors Judge Lewis declared that there would be "no letup" in the fight against the racketeers.

INMAN KEEPS SPEED ON WIFE BY KEYHOLE

Reno, Nev., March 29 (AP)—Walker P. Inman, Duke tobacco fortune heir, faced a drilling cross-examination here today at the hands of attorneys for his wife, Helen. Inman, who had been taking the stand in his own defense in the divorce action, Inman occupied the witness chair for more than three hours, apparently seeking to spike the guns of his wife's cross-examination. Inman answered under examination of his own attorneys many of the allegations of his wife.

Indicating that a financial battle will be waged as well as a battle for divorce, the defense launched its cross-examination on details of Inman's fortune and income. On the stand Inman said he was worth approximately $1,000,000 and had an income of between $40,000 and $50,000 a year.

Mr. Inman, it is understood, offered a $500,000 settlement of $500,000 to replace the separation agreement giving her $250,000.

Inman said he had determined upon separation from his wife after hearing the story of his butler, Otto Schmidt. The butler, who had given a "keyhole" version of affairs in the Inman apartment. Peeping through the keyhole, the butler said, he saw the hat of Robert Yap.

"I could not see Yap," he testified, "so I presume he was in the room."

Inman was called upon to tell of two occasions when he claimed Mrs. Inman had attacked him with water glasses. On one occasion, he said, he was asleep in his apartment when his wife came home and he awoke to find her clanking his face.

SEEK MISSING NEEDHAM GIRL
Miss Ethel Donahue, 18, of Needham Heights, was sought by police in Boston today at the request of her father.

Police doubted this, and by questioning her, secured information which caused them to get in touch with the father in Needham. When he failed to find his daughter, he appealed to the police to make a search. She is 5 feet tall and weighs 145 pounds. She has brown hair and eyes. She wore a gray coat.

WELCOMES NEW FEDERAL PROBE
United States Atty. Frederick T. Tarr today declared his office would welcome any investigation, and that he was proud of the record of the office. Officials presumed it would be included in the inquiry announced at Washington by Atty.-Gen. Mitchell.

Federal officials here claim that there is no office in the United States that can show a better record than that of the United States Attorney for Massachusetts. It is said that the office is practicing to date the prosecution of cases—both that defendants are brought to trial speedily, after indictment.

Two N. Y. Banks in $400,000,000 Merger
New York, March 29.—Announcement of the merger of the Chemical National Bank and the United States Mortgage & Trust Co. into a banking concern, with $400,000,000 resources, was made here. The new concern will be known as the Chemical Bank & Trust Co. Preparatory to the merger, the Chemical National Bank will declare a stock dividend of $4,000,000 to its shareholders.

Italian Sub Makes World Depth Record
Spazio, Italy, March 29 (AP)—The new Italian submarine Albatross has made what is claimed to be the world's depth record for an undersea boat. It descended to 387 feet below sea level. The old record was 244.50 feet.

Boy's Collapse Due to Natural Causes
Barnard C. Woburn, of Highland ave., Roxbury, who was first reported by police to have taken poison, was found by City Hospital doctors to be suffering from natural causes. Early accounts of Woburn's collapse, published in the Boston Evening America, were incorrect.

Do Co-eds Smoke? Au, You Tell 'Em!
Loring, Mass., March 29 (AP)—The legislature intends to find out whether co-eds at the University of Michigan smoke and whether the company that mailed cigarettes to students under its "I Voted the Law" campaign were sent to hundreds of students, and the state appointed a committee to inquire.

LANDS SAFELY AFTER PLANE MOTOR FAILS

Mitchell Field, N. Y., March 29.—Harold G. Fisher of the local, army observation squad was being complimented today for the skill and coolness with which he extricated his powerless plane from seemingly certain disaster.

Fisher took off for a practice flight in a biplane having Corp. William Wilson as observer.

When they were only 60 feet up, the engine cut off, leaving them above the southern end of the field with telegraph wires ahead and a helpless dive into them apparently certain.

Fisher managed to make a turn without engine power, and attempted a downward landing. He averted a nose dive or side slip, but the plane landed on one wheel, bounced to the other, and then rocked along the ground bouncing from one wing tip to the other and threatening every second to overturn.

Police Lieutenant Dies
Worcester, March 29.—James J. Burke, 65, for 30 years a member of the police department, and for 22 years a detective, who was retired in 1928 with the rank of lieutenant, died here after a short illness.

If YOU were one of the many thousands who failed to get April Cosmopolitan, ask the newsdealer now for next Monday's Boston Evening American—the opening chapter of

CALVIN COOLIDGE'S OWN STORY

'THE PRICE in HEARTACHES of BEING PRESIDENT'

Now and then a President of the United States has written something which became historical as a human document rather than as a state paper. Washington's farewell address, Lincoln's letter to a mother; these were the thoughts of great men written in a manner so human that none could fail to feel the heart behind them.

Already well established as the most far-seeing and most successful of the magazine editors of the United States, Mr. Ray Long accomplished the greatest "scoop" in the history of monthly publications when he was first on the stands with a narrative "By Calvin Coolidge."

But Mr. Long made one great mistake. He underestimated the selling value of his beat. He did not grasp the full sweep of the Nation's interest in the quiet man of Northampton. And so, in giving his orders to the printers, Ray Long, perhaps for the first time in his life, fell down.

Dealers throughout New England could have sold double their allotments. Boston was "shy" by at least 10,000. In the country at large there were hundreds of thousands who reached the newsstands only to hear: "Sorry, but I have not got a Cosmopolitan left."

Now you may read Coolidge's narrative in the Boston Evening American beginning Monday, April 1st, and continuing Tuesday and Wednesday, the 2nd and 3rd.

Calvin Coolidge, in the articles which will appear in Monday's, Tuesday's and Wednesday's Boston Evening American—re-printed from the April Cosmopolitan—begins an account to the American people of his years in the White House. He has undoubtedly written a human document comparable to those by Washington and Lincoln.

YOU owe it to your family to make them acquainted with the REAL Calvin Coolidge. Be sure they have the Boston Evening American of the coming Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday.

With Next Monday's, Tuesday's and Wednesday's

BOSTON EVENING AMERICAN

Largest Evening Circulation in New England

Read in Mr. Coolidge's Own Words

HOW, beginning his career as an obscure country lawyer, with no recipe but industry, the door to the White House gradually opened for him—a lesson for every American.

HOW in a Vermont farmhouse occurred one of the simplest, yet most impressive, scenes in American history.

HOW a father administered to his son the oath of office which made that son the Chief Magistrate of the Nation.

HOW Mrs. Harding, newly a widow, received the new President and his wife.

WHY he did not join the church in his youth . . . how he found it his duty to support the church . . . how, in an unusual way, he became a church member.

HOW he felt when he lost his son, Calvin Coolidge, Jr., of whom he says, "the power and the glory of the Presidency went with him."

*This is the True Story
by CALVIN COOLIDGE
that swept the April Cosmopolitan
from newsstands everywhere!*

Announcing Mr. Coolidge's story in the Cosmopolitan, which sells for 35 cents, Ray Long said he believed Mr. Coolidge had written a human document as fine as those by Washington and Lincoln. The press has confirmed that opinion.

The New York Times, for instance, says:

"Three days after stepping down from his exalted office, Mr. Coolidge appeared yesterday as a contributor to the Cosmopolitan Magazine . . . The article presents a little known side of the former President and discloses a deep strain of emotion. It reveals depths of feeling which he never permitted to show in the searching limelight and analyses to which he was subjected during five and a half years at the capital."

And this is the article which, on Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday next—one instalment each day—is to be placed before the readers of the Boston Evening American.

N. B.—REMEMBER—NEWSPAPERS, TOO, CAN BE "ALL SOLD OUT"

RABBI INDICTS PROHIBITION ON TWELVE COUNTS

Enumerating "twelve intolerable conditions" caused by the Volstead Act, Rabbi Morris S. Lazaron, at Madison Avenue Synagogue, Baltimore, advocated an organized, diligent and unbiased study of the problem to determine what change may be brought about in the interest of temperance.

Rabbi Lazaron, who is a member of the executive board of the Central Conference of American Rabbis, an author and playwright, declared:

"All the forces of the country to which the present situation is a shock must work in coordination. Existing organizations such as the Association Against the Prohibition Amendment, the Moderate League, the Church Temperance Society, the Committee of Law Enforcement, the Constitutional Liberty League, and similar groups, all those organizations which have been opposing the Volstead law must come together in conference."

TWELVE POINTS

"There should be included the great chain of nearest newspapers now conducting a popular competition on the subject, and representatives of all other newspapers interested."

Rabbi Lazaron cited "intolerable conditions" caused by the Volstead law as follows:

- 1—That the Volstead law has not reduced drunkenness, that the arrests for drunkenness are on the increase in the law centers of population.
- 2—That under the Volstead law the use of alcoholic beverages has become more widely distributed. Deaths from acute alcoholism have risen to higher levels; the manufacture, transportation and diversion of industrial alcohol has greatly increased; the number of stills in supposedly dry states is considerably larger than before; the public task is being converted from wine and beer to the use of hard liquor, and that speaks about in greater number than the old nation.
- 3—That as a result of the Volstead law the courts are clogged with prohibition cases and other important matters are forced neglected.
- 4—That under the Volstead law the state has become the policeman of its citizens and innocent people have been killed by promiscuous and unwarranted use of the prohibition agent's revolver.

RIGHTS DESTROYED

- 5—That the Volstead law has developed a system of spying, the use of agents provocateur, hitherto unheard of in our country. The fundamental safeguards of the citizen as guaranteed by the bill of rights have been destroyed.
- 6—That because of prohibition public officials have been corrupted and millions of honest men and good citizens have been made hypocrites and law-breakers.
- 7—That attempts to enforce the law have produced aggravated penalties out of all proportion to the crime committed. Violations of the Volstead law is made more heinous an offense than kidnapping a child or white slavery.
- 8—That, directly caused by the restrictions of the Volstead law, men are drinking who never drank before and the habit has been taken up by women, youth, and even children, to the lowering of all hitherto accepted standards. Lascivious and immoralities have therefore increased.
- 9—Because the Volstead law violates the sense of rights of numerous individuals who refuse to abide by it, who find and ridicule it, there has entered into our national thinking a dangerous disregard for all law.

CRIME SUBSIDIZED

- 10—The Volstead law has created a new and dangerous criminal class—run-runners and bootleggers—whose activities are fostered by millions of people who reject the law.
- 11—The Volstead law has subsidized crime. The crime waves in New York and Chicago; the gang, the racketeers, the bombing and murders are directly traceable to the influence of the law. The recent appalling slaughter of seven men in Chicago.

corns

—Out they come with a touch of "Freezone"

A corn that's out can't hurt! A touch of "Freezone" stops the itching instantly, then lets it dry up so that it lifts right off with fingers. Doesn't hurt one bit! Get "Freezone" today. Your druggist sells a toy bottle for a few cents, sufficient to remove every hard corn, soft corn, or corn between the toes, and the foot calms down without exposure or irritation.

be preserved has complicated the problem. "While it is agreed that the preservation of the Constitution is of vital concern, it should also be urged that the heart of the controversy remains. Is the Volstead law the best instrument for temperance?"

"And it may also be suggested that just because the Volstead law, interpreting the Eighteenth Amendment is perhaps not the best law it has brought disrespect for the Constitution."

"Beyond the law, and not only the Constitution will be maintained, but the intolerable conditions may more easily be remedied."

"Aside from the paid propaganda, the bootleggers and the criminal elements that fatten off the situation, the people who want the Volstead law—and they are the vast majority of those who want it—want it from religious conviction."

Cardigan's Loves

WINIFRED VAN DUZER

Six-Day Novel by a Famous Author

Cardigan, a scientist, knowing boys but not girls, is left twenty million dollars by his uncle provided he marries before his thirtieth birthday, less than a year away. Jeremiah Deles, executor, browbeats Cardigan into an experiment to find a wife to fulfill the requirements of the will. Fifty thousand dollars is to be put into the hands of Emily Van Dorn, impoverished society girl. If she fails the test, three allotments of fifty thousand dollars each are to be given Fay Sinclair, actress; Alice Miller, shop girl, and Mme. Noel de Mioton, concert pianist. Cardigan with fifty thousand left, and moved by a quixotic impulse, opens a bank account with this for his secretary, Joan Madden, who has the look of a wild rose and the disposition of a cactus.

Emily Van Dorn turns Bohemian when wealth makes her independent of conventions. She moves into a Greenwich Village apartment, refuses to marry Cardigan, but offers to enter into a free love pact.

Cardigan, seeing Fay Sinclair on the stage, is bewitched by her charm. Fay explains that the money gave her confidence and this had won her success; but makes it plain that her dream of a country cottage had vanished. Cardigan now lays siege to the heart of Alice Miller, saleslady.

CHAPTER 6
THE note was written with purple ink upon lavender stationery and a cut-out monogram loosely adorned the top of the sheet as well as the flap of the envelope.

Cardigan admitted that Miss Alice Miller would require polishing, though he assured himself this would be no problem. Who was it that said the basis of good manners is kindness? Sweet Alice was almost too kind for dignity and her rollicking interest in almost everything seemed enchanting after the flat boredom cultivated by the young fashionables he knew best.

A year in Europe would do it: give her a luster to dazzle

PRINCESS MARGARET BONCOMPAGNI MAKES BRIEF STAY IN HUB

Next Month She Sails on Liner Aquitania and Will Not Return Until Autumn Tinges the Foliage

INvariably on her excursions from one center of fashion to another, the Princess Margaret Boncompagni makes Boston a stopping place. One moment she draws the handsome American-born Princess to Boston is the large and important Draper clan to which she is a distant ornament. Another is the excited social circle that would sound a triumphal fanfare were the former Miss Margaret Draper amenable to an overwhelmingly frivolous program. That she favors both all formal functions and more such hospitalities as are on her program will be celebrated as family.

THE PRINCESS WILL PUT UP AT HER FAVORITE HOTEL while in town, the Ritz-Carlton, and will be in town until the 30th of the month. She has taken passage on the liner Aquitania, which departs for the British Isles and the Continent on April 3. And probably not until autumn tinges the first merest of blossoms of ruscus and gold on the maple does she come home again. The Princess has made a long sojourn in Washington, where she moves through highest official and diplomatic circles gracefully at home.

SUCH A SWEET DEVOTION AS EXISTS IN THE GIRLISH hearts of Miss Wilfrid Thorndike and Miss Phyllis Elsworth dates back to school days at Miss Winsor's, and blooms anew when it comes to Vincent Club theatricals. These two extremely attractive members of the debutante coterie insist on doing a "bunnet" together in the Vincent Vauxhalls, and even to smile at the camera together. To a rich endowment of politeness has been added for each girl one talent for dancing—and just what exercise they possess in that direction will be cause for applause next Tuesday at the Plymouth, for the Vauxhalls opening.

TO CAST MRS. JOHN E. THAYER JR. IN OTHER THAN A comic role would never occur to the powers that have to do with these momentous decisions within the Vincent Club. Mrs. Thayer's whimsicalities of makeup and stage business endow the actress's office of Boston's very smart feminines club with a vast measure of the calm and feminine thrills and masculine guile, and results in several scores. On Mrs. Thayer's slender shoulders rests most of the character acting, and she comes through nobly. Her part in the 1929 Vauxhalls runs true to Thayer form.

PRETTY GOLDENHAIR MISS LOUISE FESSENDEN, will lift up her sweet soprano in one Vincent Vauxhall number. A club steadily absorbing in brass, so to speak, with a few to execute. The prima donna of the show will of course be the silver voiced Miss Butler, who, with Mrs. Frederick Bradlee, Jr., and Mrs. A. Lynde Cochran, make a trio to carry principal honors. For the opening every ticket will be sold, and the usual standing room only for a Vincent show will delight the keeper of the strong box.

A NEW YORK WEDDING TO BE CELEBRATED IN APRIL will interest Mrs. Bradlee, always so beautifully frocked and so slenderly attractive. Sargent Bradlee, her brother-in-law, will be the second lead in the nuptial rite that have as their principal attraction Miss Louise Tripp. Miss Tripp is another pretty New Yorker deciding to cast her matrimonial lot with an eligible Bostonian, and sets the day as April 23. The lovely Italian garden of the Hotel Ambassador will give a tropical air to the atmosphere of an early spring wedding and provide much beauty for trailing satins and cloudy tails.

SELLING OUT THE BOSTON OPERA HOUSE TOMORROW evening for "Double Trouble" proved no trouble at all to energetic Dartmouth men. And enrolling a patroness list of utmost discretion became mere child's play to Green cohorts who invade Boston at this time in the cultural and not the athletic manner. The president of the Harvard college and most of the faculty are coming to town for the occasion, to say nothing of a goodly number of the undergraduate body. Mrs. Josiah French Hill is one of the most ardent sponsors and with others concerned anticipates a full flock of dollars that "Art and Drama" at Dartmouth may be promoted as it deserves.

THE PATHS OF TRAVEL THAT LED SO MANY BOSTONIANS away to foreign parts now lead them home again with the pleasant recollections of cruises, trips, sights and experiences. Maj. and Mrs. Walter Merriam Pratt are back at their apartment in the Hotel Somerset after several weeks on the other side, a late winter and early spring sojourn done in the modern manner of the luxurious cruise, with a floating hotel in every port and nothing whatever to mar the pleasures of travel and sightseeing ashore. And once home again Mrs. Pratt goes to a luncheon for the work of one of her pet philanthropies, the Soldiers and Sailors Club in Fayette st., happily dedicated to the enlisted wearers of the khaki and the blue.

JUNE'S ROSEBETWEEN PATHS WILL BE TRODDEN BY Mrs. Harriet Ellison on the 27th day of the brief month. Plans for a large and interesting celebration of nuptial rites are in the making, and when they eventuate will transform the young girl expert into a matron with Mrs. Howard Marsh Ferris, Jr., as the name by which she will be known. Of course, Miss Ellison has been playing golf in the South. The links at Palm Beach were never neglected during any sunlit hour of the day's twelve, and thus more frivolous instant Palm Beach has exactly the entertainment to fill any number of hours.

MATRONS WITH THOUGHTS AND CONCERNS HAVING more to do with the things of higher culture than what is merely frivolous, like Mrs. Edward Clark Brewster, are interested in the Boston visit of Dr. B. S. Scudder. Mrs. Brewster is sending out cards to meet Dr. Scudder on next Wednesday afternoon, and prior entertainments for the famous doctor who devotes her life to missionary work in India are a dinner on April 6 with Miss Hilda Olson of the University City in its Arsenal sq.

Harvard Party Off to Study Eclipse

An expedition of Harvard scientists, led by Prof. Harlan T. Dyer, of the department of astronomy at Harvard, is now on its way to the Orient to take pictures and make observations of the coming total eclipse of the sun. It was learned at Cambridge, The Harvard party, which includes representatives of the American Geographical Society and professors from other noted schools, will view the eclipse from the Malay peninsula, not far from Singapore. The eclipse, which is expected May 21, according to Prof. Dyer, is one of the most remarkable in history, because it is expected to last for an exceptionally long period of totality.

Clubwomen Urged to Fight Roadside Stand Menace

SOME of the best looking roadside stands in Massachusetts are bontle driven or worse, James J. Storrow declared before the Boston Daughters of Maine at their Federation Day meeting.

"Here is a chance for local women to get busy in every community where roadside stands exist," Mrs. Storrow said in outlining the national contest announced for the week of April 21 by the Better Homes of America Association. She is the chairman for Massachusetts, and was presented to the club by its president, Mrs. A. B. Carmichael.

"Many of these stands are hideous and it is up to the women to make sure that no such blots exist on their fair countryside," Mrs. Storrow said. "It is high time that we exercise our franchise privileges by assisting for improved conditions not only in our homes but in our communities."

"This is not a simple matter for these people have organized to fight for roadside privileges. Over 100 local chairmen have already signed up in Massachusetts for Better Homes Week, she reported.

"I feel that it is an important part of every woman's education, whether she marries or not, to know how to spend her income to the best advantage, and at the same time make her home pleasant and her family comfortable," the speaker continued.

"When you consider the amount of money that the average woman spends annually it seems fitting that all women should recognize the dignity and importance of home making."

Cheerful coloring in crapes and wall papers make for cheerful families, she believed, and especially does a light, well-ventilated kitchen change a woman's perspective on life after a dark dreary one.

"The object of Better Homes Week is to encourage women to study how they can improve their homes, neighborhood and communities," Mrs. Storrow explained. "And if the minds of more women were fixed upon this object there would be a great deal more happiness and a great deal less talk of divorce, flaming youth and such other things."

Mrs. William J. McDonald, sixth district director, brought state federation greetings and Mrs. Carl Watson, president Boston city Federation, spoke for her organization.

ANNUAL OPEN MEETING Announcement of the annual open meeting of the Boston City Federation for April 26 at the Hotel Statler was made today by Mrs. Carl B. Watson, president.

On this occasion state and city officials and prominent men and women interested in the women's club movement will gather for a luncheon at 1 p. m. to be followed by a brilliant speaking program. Thirty thousand members will be represented.

SATURDAY MEETINGS BURNAGE SALE The De Normandie Women's Club, newest member of the State Federation, the Mother's Club and the Young Men's Association of Norfolk Center will unite with job volunteer workers from various social and church clubs of Greater Boston in conducting a rummage and antique sale at Horticultural Hall all day tomorrow.

Mrs. Zephane M. Shepard of Brookline is directing the sale, assisted by Mrs. W. Rodman Pringle, Mrs. Anna Cutler, Mrs. Knickerbocker, Mrs. Margaret Thayer, Mrs. Louise Q. Perry, Mrs. Albert B. Merrill of Brookline will have charge of the luncheon.

B. C. Debaters in Prize Event April 7 The Fulton Debating Society of Boston College will hold its annual prize debate Sunday, April 7, at 8 p. m. in the assembly hall at the college, on the question: "Resolved, That Modern Advancement is More Desirable Than Tradition."

The affirmative will be upheld by E. J. Hogan, Jr., T. Sullivan, Jr., and J. J. Donohue, Jr. The negative will be upheld by G. K. Kiefer, Jr., J. L. L. Carnegie, Jr., and Alfred J. Monahan, Jr. will debate the negative.

Twentieth Century Club Mrs. Thomas Chalmers of Newton will speak on "Woman's Influence in the Home and the World," at the luncheon, 1 p. m., at 2 Joy st., and Dr. Theodore G. Barker of Chicago will present a discussion topic. Exhibition of water colors by Mrs. Austin Chase of Boston and Provincetown opens there.

"Bon-Tone Certainly Relieved Me of Stomach Trouble and I Can Add My Thanks Also," States Elm St. Resident

Mrs. Eva Cote of 1223 Elm St., Manchester, is another local lady who reports her complete recovery to health by the use of Bon-Tone. She states: "For a long time I have had a disordered stomach and no matter what I ate or how careful I'd be, the food just would not digest properly and gas would form. At times I would get severe pains in the pit of the stomach and often I would belch up sour substances. I was always tired and had no ambition to do a thing and often would have to let my housework go at 1 p. m. couldn't do it. My back was very lame and it was all I could do to bend over to pick up anything off the floor. I felt miserable and was in a weakened condition when I started on Bon-Tone. From the very first I could see an improvement, and now I feel like a different person. I have a good appetite and as my food digests the gas and pain and heartburn have disappeared. Those terrible pains in my back are gone, and that tired out feeling is gone, too. Thanks to Bon-Tone, I feel like myself again."

You will find a Bon-Tone agent at the following drug stores in Boston:

Red Sox Have Chance
Yanks Improved
Cubs May Click

By NICK FLATLEY

PORT MYERS, Fla., March 29—Red Sox have a chance to escape cellar, at last.

This time of the year, the boys who are supposed to know all about baseball proceed to forecast the long league races. It doesn't mean a thing, to be sure, but it's a pleasant little custom, and gives the fans with attentive memories a chance to enjoy the humor later on, when actual results make prognostications look like soap head fancies.

None the less, it seems to be that this spring predicting is a more less pastime, and goes just at a time when you fan is hungry for something to chatter about while waiting that long week for the appearance of his ball club on the windows of diamonds of the North.

In advance, the biggest feature of the future baseball book is the fact that the Boston Red Sox finally have a real chance to get out of the cellar. The estate William Carrigan has swapped himself into the makers of a pretty good ball club, after only three years of trying.

The Sox have been in the sink so long that the league standing wouldn't look natural without a Boston at the bottom. But, we believe, there will be many an unnatural tale in the print books during the next few months.

Will Carrigan have gathered a real pitchers' brigade for himself, and give him pitchers and he doesn't ask for much more. Any team with Morris, Ruffing, Russell, MacDougal, Lumbard and Glatton will win a flock of ball games and the gentleman from Lewiston has a few others up his sleeve.

Carrigan grabbed the backbone of a ball club when he made that Buddy Myer trade last winter, and it took from this distance as if a lot of ball clubs would have a tough time this summer, what days they visit the Fenway, or entertain the Sox on their own orchard.

THE American League teams are likely to finish like this:

1. Yankees.	2. Detroit.
3. Athletics.	4. Chicago.
5. St. Louis.	6. Boston.
7. Washington.	8. Cleveland.

THE rest, if they get away well, have a chance to have a few games better than the last, in the standings.

KEEPS CROWN IN CHICAGO WAR

WALKER LOSES HARD BATTLE TO LOUGHRAN

Chicago, March 29.—Tommy Loughran, light heavy boxing champion, defeated Mickey Walker, middle weight king, in a 10-round fight in the new Stadium here.

Loughran won seven rounds and Walker two with one even.

Referee Dave Miller voted to give the decision to Walker, but the judges, Phil Collins and Eddie Klein, agreed on Loughran as the victor.

Neither fighter was knocked to the floor. The bout, though uneven, was an occasional flurry, was not fast. Loughran, a clever boxer, was able to hold Walker off, using a fast left jab to stop Mickey's rushes.

In a preliminary bout, Tuffy Higgins took a 10-round decision over Leo Lomski, Aberdeen assassin.

TOMMY LOUGHRAN

Loughran, light heavy weight champ, successfully defended his title against Mickey Walker in a ten-round fight at the Chicago Stadium. The superior boxing skill and ring craft of the victor kept Walker back.

Hub Girl Athletes Defend Titles

By GEORGE W. GRIMM

Boston will have two girls defending national titles tomorrow evening at the third annual women's national track and field championships at the Boston Garden.

These two are Mildred Wiley and Katherine Meals, members of the Boston Swimming Association.

Miss Meals, who has long been showing her skill in this section of the country, will try to retain her two titles. The little B. S. A. girl is champion in the 100-yard dash and standing broad jump.

She first won the national championship in the standing broad jump in 1927 and again copied the honors in the same event last spring, while she added the crown of national title holder in the 40-yard sprint last year at the East Army.

Miss Wiley needs no introduction to the local followers of girls' track and field sports. For the last six years she has competed in track events, as a high jumper, a very good swimmer and of late has taken to fancy skating.

During the winter she devoted most of her time to figure skating in hopes of making the next U. S. Olympic figure skating team.

Miss Elizabeth Groves, colored girl star from the South Plains high school of New York, who placed second in the national outdoor broad jump championship at the East Army.

'Beware of Dogs' Has New Meaning Now

By FRANK G. MEYKE

The old sign that read "Beware of the dogs" should be pluralized to meet with the expansion of puppy pucing and what's liable to happen to the saps who try to pick winners.

"Trying to beat the dogs," sayeth a man on the "inside."

"It's 512 times more difficult than trying to beat the ubiquitous horse stuff."

When a mild-mannered, unoppressed, gentle fellow is demanded "Beware of the dogs" the response was ready.

BETTING ILLEGAL.

"In no state in the union is betting on the dogs legalized. Thus the bettor has no protection through a law that limits how much money a dog racing association can take from the pool. In horse racing the associations take from 4% to 10 per cent, as the law permits.

"If a total of $5000 is bet in the markets on a dog track, there is nothing to prevent the operators of the track from getting 40 to 70 per cent. And don't let anybody tell you that they aren't doing that in many places.

"Because betting on dog track is without the law and the operators of track mutuel don't have to pay to insure or arrest, the fact is established that they must pay little gratuity to somebody in officialdom. Secondly, the dog track owners realize that there is a precarious business; that any week, or any day, some of the authorities may step down and close them up as if no betting is concerned.

"Finding it generally necessary to get the somebody, and eager to get the track paid for and a surplus laid aside while the going is good, the dog track people grab their profits in armloads out of the players' pool.

STANLEY CUP SERIES APT TO END TONIGHT

Boston's Bruins, as a result of their win over the Rangers in the initial cup series final in the Boston Garden, are favored to win the second war tonight in New York.

Which would end the National Hockey League scramble and leave the Bruins world champions of the year.

The Boston club played fine hockey in the first Ranger tilt. All the players are pepped-up at the thought of winning the series and starting their long rest after a tough season.

That Ranger squad will be glad when the series has been completed. The game tonight will make the fourth in six days for them and all against tough teams. A stretch like that is bound to finish any hockey team. The game is too much to be played more than three times in a week, at the most, without permanently injuring the men.

The Bruins, with more or less of a winning habit in the big games this year, are almost 2 to 1 favorite in tonight's tilt.

Bill Carson, Fred Garbath and Harry Oliver are playing the best hockey of the season and the second line of Velard, Galtner and Clapper has every bit as much power. Capt. Fred Hitchman, a great money player, Eddie Shore and George Owen, can stop anything, that can slip past the forwards.

And Tiny Thompson in the net completes the picture.

About the only Ranger to play at top form in the Garden series was Ching Johnson, defense star. He was dangerous at all times and will be just as good tonight.

B. C. Nine Works Out in Virginia

Old Point Comfort, Va., March 29.—Boston College baseball squad played the first hour of real summer weather here.

Hugh Duffy, ordered a long practice on the baseball ground at Fort Monroe.

The water route from Boston did not in any manner effect the batting eye of the battery artillery, which will open their guns on the soldiers here Saturday, at the quiet old army post.

Wine Praise of Sharkey; Promoters Seek the Services of Bortozola

By JACK CONWAY
JOE MONTE, of Brockton, who has appeared in New York rings more often than any other New England boxer, is expected to meet Tom Sharkey in a bout with Eddie Smith and Jim McEwen.

Monte is one of the few ring stars who have been able to defeat James J. Braddock, who has scored great victories by knocking over Tuffy Griffiths and Jimmy Bakke.

Monte has been working with Jack Sharkey in exhibition matches at Kettle Memorial Theatre this week and has made a good showing.

"I consider Monte one of the best of the new crop of fighters," said a boxing expert, "and it is improving his box work."

A local promoter, who is looking for a new world champion, said that Monte would prove an

Carrigan Gives All Players a Chance

By JOE CASHMAN

Bradenton, Fla., March 23—Defeats in the Grapefruit league don't bother Bill Carrigan.

He stated before the exhibition games started that he would make no attempt to win any of them. He has it.

And, not even the one-sided exhibition-game losses sometimes kill a club's winning spirit.

That may be true of some teams

but not the Red Sox.

Every athlete who works for

Bill Carrigan has the winning spirit in victory or defeat or he doesn't hang around long.

That's what Carrigan does.

RENESSA BUTTING TOSS

The pitching, though, will be the hands of Jack Russell and

Charlie Ruffing, two of the team's best mound bats, so the Sox won't be licked before they start.

Some critics find fault with the way Carrigan conducts spring practice. They claim that he should try the most other managers to win all the games possible down here.

To our way of thinking, Leveton Bill employs the only sensible training system.

The purpose of a Southern up-

he to get all the players in shape for the long grind ahead and to get a line on the new talent in camp.

The only way to accomplish this is to forget all about the results of meaningless exhibition games and to give each man an equal amount of work.

That's what Carrigan does.

CLUB IN SHAPE

As a result he will start the period season with a club that may have an unimpressive exhibition contest record but will be in better shape than most of the rivals.

And he will be virtually certain that he will not release any promising rookie.

The only thing that might be said against the system is that it takes a lot of time.

But Carrigan is not a man who is easily shaken.

He is a man who knows his business.

He is a man who knows his

club.

He is a man who knows his

team.

He is a man who knows his

game.

He is a man who knows his

club.

He is a man who knows his

team.

He is a man who knows his

game.

He is a man who knows his

club.

He is a man who knows his

team.

He is a man who knows his

game.

He is a man who knows his

club.

He is a man who knows his

team.

Tigers Favored to Defeat
Providence Six and Win
Fontaine Cup

Boston Tigers, first place holders in the Canadian-American Hockey League, will meet Providence Reds in the first game of the three out of five games playoff for the championship of the league and the Henri Fontaine Cup in Boston Arena at 8:30 tomorrow night.

The Reds won the right to play in the first round by outscoring the Eagles in a two-game total-goal series which was concluded in Providence.

Tigers, having won more games, but less, compiled the best average and landed three men on the league-scoring honor roll, will be favorites in the series.

Prospectively, the largest crowd which ever has seen a Canadian-American League game will be on hand when Referee Ritchie and Shaver call the teams into action.

The demand for reservations has been reminiscent of the days when the Bruins used to play in the Arena.

BRUINS DULL RANGERS' STANLEY CUP HOPES

Passing the Puck

By BILL GRIMES

Without undue risk, the family jewels can be wagered that the Bruins will wind up the Ranger series tonight in New York and come into undisputed possession of the Stanley Cup.

Both clubs left last night after the Bruins had shut out the Rangers, 2 to 0, in the first game, and there is little chance of the series extending beyond this evening.

According to Manager Lester Patrick of the Rangers, the Bruins were the Stanley Cup when they defeated the Canadiens and they are now ascending it against the Bruins.

Holdover the Rangers would be looking down harder, if they thought that they were given an even break last spring, as regards sports-carrier money. Every member of the team is bitter against the club owners for the treatment they received last season, and because of different happenings last year, are all fed up on the game and anxious to get it over with and return to their homes.

Dutch Clapper and Dutch Gahner were responsible for the Bruins' victory last night. Both of the goals were the result of individual efforts. But scored by a piece of quick thinking when he saw his pass uncovered, while Dutch made one of his famous rushes to get the second marker.

The Rangers played a waiting game for almost two periods. They were trying to come out with strength. They had only an even score on the ice when they were in the first two periods, while the Bruins prepared to shut on the game with 22 drives, two of which he failed to check.

If the Rangers looked upon the winning of the Stanley Cup as an important event, it is difficult to understand why they would agree to leave the Bruins game played on consecutive nights. Since last night the Rangers have played 23 minutes and 23 seconds of hockey and they must go through another hour tonight. Also, they have traveled approximately 1,000 miles. No team can hope to act the best results under such conditions.

Red Sox Rumbles

Bradenton, Fla., March 22—All who saw the Sox-Braves game will never understand why the Braves let Al Moore, Boston outfielder, go back.

He made a home run and a single and played such a marvelous fielding game that he appeared to be a much better player than either George Harner or Jack Smith, regular Tri-State first-basemen.

Billon Gaston started on the mound against Buffalo and was hit hard for the first time this spring, being found for nine hits and seven runs in five innings.

CHAMPION YANKEES STRONGER THAN EVER

LITTLE Miller Hughes has his greatest Yankee ball club ready to go to the wars.

Shifting home to third was a stroke of genius. Mark is inclined to back a ball now and then. He can handle ground balls splendidly, cover acres of ground, and throw with the best of them. Just a natural fielder. And he can hit hard enough to help out the crowd of natural pitcher murderers that surround him.

THE National League teams are likely to finish like this—Chicago, Cincinnati, Boston, Philadelphia, Brooklyn.

OUR Braves can beat the Reds out, if they get one more outfielder, and are not slowed down by too many managers. Divided as they are in a domestic thing in baseball.

THORNSBY, IF HE HUSTLES, WILL HELP CUB TEAM

JOE MCCARTHY'S Chicago Cubs have threatened the past two seasons. They have just fallen short because they lacked the punch to carry through in a last wild drive. The trade with Boston gave them Hornsby, and that big punch, without weakening the club much elsewhere.

MR. BOSTON

By Jack Conway

"ONE must give Judge Emil Fuchs of the Braves credit for being the most courageous man in baseball," said Mr. Boston today. "He has six former managers on his ball club."

"The average big league club usually gets the well known coach to any former manager whom he happens to find on his ball club. Fuchs instead goes on adding a flock of additional ex-managers to his payroll. This condition of affairs caused Charles Seagr of Walter Rowley's New York Daily Mirror to write as follows:

"The noblest experiment being attempted in baseball this year is that of Judge Emil Fuchs trying to run the Boston Braves, with so many ex-managers sitting on the bench or holding some position on his ball club."

"Among those who have tried their hand at piloting a team are Johnny Evers, former pilot with the Cubs and now assistant to Fuchs; Hank Gowdy, once manager in the minors, who is coach of the Braves; George Sisler, former leader of the Browns; Rabbit Maranville, who had a hectic time when running Bill Wiley's Cubs; Fred Mitchell, who won the pennant with the Cubs and who now is business manager of the Boston club; and Jack Slaterry, who gave way as the Braves' manager in Hornsby's favor."

"No ball club can make headway with so many ex-managers around. Fuchs cannot possibly expect to get much out of the Braves."

"IN the average case, a ball club with too many former managers on its payroll is under a tremendous handicap, but it is possible Fuchs may upset this old precedent."

"Evers, Maranville, Gowdy and Mitchell are all members of the famous 1914 Braves, who won the National League pennant and then won the world's championship by defeating the Athletics in four straight games. These men have a close bond of friendship between them, and I look to find them working for the common good."

"Slaterry has reached the point in his baseball career where he is satisfied to go in and give the best he has for a day's pay."

"Jack Slaterry is one of the easiest going fellows in baseball, and should be an asset to the Tribe in his position as scout and teacher for the young players in the Ivory School."

"THE fact Fuchs has never managed a ball club until this year will put him in a tough position if things happen to go wrong. Evers will probably be the real manager of the Braves, but the judge will have to take the rap if things go wrong."

"The judge has a reputation for being a master diplomat and maybe he will prove that a flock of brains on the bench can help a club get base hits."

"I HAVE always felt it is better to have a few first-class ball players and not more than one manager. Ed Barrow, who won an American League pennant and a world's championship with the Red Sox, didn't know any more baseball than Fuchs. He didn't have a single assistant, but he did have Babe Ruth, Everett Scott, Herb Pennock, Harry Hooper, Sam Jones, Oscar Vitt and a flock of other classy baseball material on the job each day."

"A ball club happens to be equipped with a flock of stars, it is easy to play the hand out. A good disposition and the ability to keep the team working in harmony are then the necessary qualifications for a successful major league pilot. Big Ed Barrow was 100 per cent in the respect. I think Fuchs could do as well as Barrow if he had first-class material with which to work."

Swarthout May Leave Dartmouth

Hanover, N. H., March 22—Dartmouth will lose one of its outstanding athletes if Edwin Swarthout of Rochester, N. Y., and Bob Leigh of Hackensack, N. J., succeed in their plans to join the United States air force.

Martha on Stuffed Peppers

SURELY, sweet peppers were meant to be stuffed. Their very form is an invitation. With the stem end cut, and the white lining and seeds removed, there they stand—hollow green or red cups, just begging to be filled with good things.

Martha Lee
of Boston

Raw peppers are most familiarly stuffed with a mixture of cream cheese and nuts, cut, sliced crosswise, and served as a salad, or are stuffed with seasoned hamburger steak or rice blended with deviled ham and baked. But after these stable recipes are mentioned, the tale of the stuffed pepper is still far from told. In the following unusual recipes the pepper takes its turn being stuffed with novel fillings that give to, and get from, the pepper a rare delicacy of flavor:

TEMPLETON STUFFED PEPPERS

Cut off stem end, remove lining and seeds for 10 minutes in water to which a pinch of soda has been added. Drain. Melt 1 tbs. butter and sauté in it 1/2 cup minced onion and an equal amount dried green pepper. Add 3 tbs. flour, 1 1/2 cups milk, 1/4 tsp. paprika and 1/2 tsp. mustard. Blend, and pour on gradually, stirring constantly, 1/2 c. milk. Bring to boiling point and add 1/4 c. canned corn and simmer for 10 minutes. Add 1 small egg, slightly beaten. Sauté 2-3 c. finely diced stale bread in butter and add to corn mixture. Stuff the peppers with the mixture, top with buttered croutons, and bake in oven until brown.

PEPPERS WITH CHEESE AND TOMATOES

Parboil 8 green peppers that have had stem end, seeds and lining removed. Drain. Melt 2 tbs. butter, sauté in it 1 onion, finely sliced. Add 1/2 c. canned tomatoes, 1 tsp. Worcestershire sauce, 1 c. cooked rice; season with salt and pepper. Simmer for 3 minutes, add 1/2 c. grated American cheese, and remove from stove. Fill peppers with the mixture, sprinkle grated cheese on top, brown in a moderate oven, and serve with tomato sauce.

PEPPERS WITH VEAL AND MUSHROOMS

Prepare peppers and parboil for stuffing. Stuff with a mixture of equal parts cold, cooked or canned veal, and sliced canned mushrooms. Season with salt, moisten with brown sauce, top with buttered croutons, and bake and brown in oven. Serve with the following Brown Sauce: Brown 4 tbs. butter, blend in 4 tbs. flour, and stir until browned. Add gradually, while stirring constantly, 1/2 cup water and 1/2 c. strained tomato juice (from 1 1/2 bottles) cubes dissolved in 1 1/2 c. water. Season with salt, pepper, lemon juice and Worcestershire sauce. Cook slowly until thick and stir to keep from lumping.

PEPPER AND GRAPE FRUIT SALAD

Remove the stem end, seeds and white lining from fresh green peppers and chill the shells. Fill them with canned grapefruit hearts and garnish with nut meats. Serve on lettuce leaves with mayonnaise.

Cook slowly until thick and stir to keep from lumping.

Faithfully yours,
MARtha LEE.

HOUSEHOLD HINTS

Do not throw away wormout rags. Cut out the best portions and make bathroom or bedroom rugs from them. Bind with tape or creosote.

To make an emergency soup add milk, a beaten egg, salt and onion to the water left from cooking vegetables.

Pieces of newspaper, first using a wet piece and then a dry one, are effective for cleaning mirrors and windows.

What Determines Life Span

By L. E. Blach, M.D., Ph.D.
Famous Authority on Health and Psychology

WHAT the span of life of the individual will be—that is the number of years that he will live—is determined by two factors.

One is his inherited physical endowment, the degree of physical health and resistance with which he is born; the other is the degree and amount of destruction which operates against this endowment by the forces of the environment in which the individual lives.

Now then, we know that the life-span of the average individual has increased. About 20 years have been added in the last century. In 1840 the United States could boast of over three thousand persons one hundred years old!

And in this connection it is interesting to quote Pearson when he states: "Out of one hundred Roman-Egyptians not nine survived; out of one hundred English alive at 10 years of age, 39 survive to be 65."

In other words, two thousand years have made the human being a much more resistant animal. This greater fitness for life, however, has not been due to any decided increase in his inherent and endowed strength at birth.

Eugenics is trying to accomplish that it is pointing the way to better and healthier matings and that in time the children when born shall possess the greatest possible amount of vitality, the greatest degree of health.

The lengthening of life cannot be explained by increased endowment, no, but it can by the facts of man's increase of scientific knowledge, by his application to himself of the principles of hygiene and disease prevention, and, lastly, by a broadening interest in public health.

Especially has this change been noted in the past 25 years. One after another infectious and contagious diseases—which in olden days, ravaged lives by the hundreds of thousands—have been brought under some semblance of control.

Such diseases as yellow fever, smallpox and cholera, have been made practically extinct in certain localities. Typhoid and diphtheria have been brought to a finish.

A quarter of a century ago tuberculosis was the chief destroyer of life. Since then it has been reduced 50 per cent.

But—But!—But! So much more could still be done if the individual would only pay even greater heed than he does to reducing the destructive forces of his environment how easily, really he could prolong his life ten and ten years!

There are still those who "do not believe" in vaccination for smallpox, for instance, and in inoculation against typhoid and diphtheria.

There are mothers who remain careless about adopting the latest scientific methods in safeguarding the health of their infants. It is true that the death rate of children between 1 and 4 years has been reduced 70 per cent. But this could be reduced even further.

Then the ravages of pneumonia, in adults, and oraxie heart disease which so often are due to unhygienic living, and the problems of cancer!

Science has accomplished miracles in cutting down the horrid forces of disease, but much remains to be done.

It can be done, too! But every body must help.

Each person should and must gain all the knowledge that is available for his benefit and apply it.

Unless he does that he will not increase his own life-span as he might nor does he add to the sum total of community and national health as is his duty.

LOVES OF STAGE BEAUTIES

By Ruth Morris.

"MADAME REJANE—Parisienne; they are interchangeable terms," wrote Dauphin Mounier, adding: "A Parisienne is a fabulous being in an everyday human form; a face not beautiful, scarcely even pretty, with eyes upon the world with an air at once ironic and spiritual; two roguish eyes, now black, now blue, an old little nose perked heavenward, the rude accents of the street girl suddenly changing to the well-bred manner of the great lady."

This was a Parisienne—and this was Gabrielle Rejane.

For if ever there was a child of Paris, it was Rejane, with her call of lightning, her brittle humor and her changing moods. The great French actress was born Gabrielle Charlotte Reju in a business section of Paris, in 1867. Her father, a retired actor, was employed as a member of the buffet in the Theatre Ambigu, at the time of her birth. Her mother often helped him at busy times. Thus it came about that as Gabrielle grew older, the Reju household was practically transferred to the lobby of the Ambigu. The little Parisienne was permitted to witness all the plays and developed a natural love and feeling for the stage.

After her father's death, things did not go so well. There were years when the Reju family was reduced to poverty, relieved only by the earnings Reju received for painting faces. The stage-artist Gabrielle merely bided her time and one day one of the friends of a friend introduced her to the famous actor Regnier—then retired, and a teacher at the conservatory.

Regnier tried to dissuade Gabrielle from her ambition, recounting the numbers who had tried and failed to succeed in the profession. Seeing that argument was futile, however, he offered to give her two months' trial, at the end of which time, if he pronounced her an ultimate disappointment, she was to seek some obscure trade.

It was agreed, and before the two months were over, Regnier realized that he had a potential star under his tutelage. Through his influence Gabrielle attained a scholarship at the Conservatoire. But jealousy rampant within Mounier's sacred theater, prevented her from taking prizes and receiving an ultimate endorsement with the Comedie.

So it was at the Vaudeville Theatre that Gabrielle, bubbling over with excitement, played her first part. Unfortunately, it was not a very big one. But Gabrielle remained at the Vaudeville until 1883, during which time she was not generally recognized as a talent. The fact that she had played over twenty parts in the same play was a fortunate change was brought about when she signed a three-year contract with M. Bertrand to play in his production at the Vaudeville. Bertrand was as much in need of a star for his theater as Gabrielle was in need of being starred. It was a fortunate union.

For some time the name of Rejane blossomed all over the city on the Seine. In 1883 tremendous success came with her portrayal of the title role in Sardou's "Madame Sans-Gene." From then on, it became a problem not to find plays for Rejane, but to choose one from the many offered by aspiring young dramatists. For the presentation of Rejane, which was the very essence of the Parisienne, was grist to the playwright's mill. Any number of parts were written to measure for her.

Following her marriage to M. Ford, a director of the Vaudeville, Gabrielle embarked on a tour of America. She was an immediate sensation. "She is not beautiful," she is words," was a favorite but not concerning the foreign star. William Archer wrote: "She has a comely every line of her face, eyes, lit, tilted nose and wonderful expressive mouth."

London in 1884 saw her triumphs in the form-fitting roles of Sappho and Zaza. A return to America gave her for some of the success of her first tour. A huge party was given for her honor at which, when she was presented with a golden crown, Rejane executed a neat pas de deux with a tall, thin, and a play—but not so gay—Nineties, and a play's box office suffered as a result.

Her two children remained in her custody when, back in Paris, she divorced their wandering father. Return to the Vaudeville was now impossible, but Gabrielle was again by herself, and her own theater "Le Theatre Rejane" was opened in the career in a blaze of French glory.

THE 'BAER' FACTS

WE learn with badly concealed surprise that Mr. Kellie has just plastered his indorsement on his 80th treaty.

This breaks Mr. Bryan's record by one last good-will and testament.

A grand total of 158 treaties which have been signed by two statesmen.

We haven't negotiated quite so many happy documents as England, but England has more diplomats than we have.

You can have your peace treaties in the spring. We will take a mustard plaster.

All these peace pacts are essential. Principally because of international ambassadors.

The main trouble with ambassadors is that they think they have been appointed ambassadors.

When Norway sends an ambassador to Spain, then Portugal gets even by sending an ambassador to Turkey to embarrass them penitentiary.

The boys immediately pull out a deck of peace treaties consisting of 52 cards with the joker running wild.

At the finish of the game the ambassador exclaims, "I have just started six more wars."

His chief cables back, "Come home before you run out of peace treaties."

This maintains the balance of power and keeps the entente cordiale from turning sour on the vine.

The trouble with America right now is peace treaties. We are suffering from writer's cramp of the navy.

We also have cordials of the army and amendment of the national resources.

To that you can add mandates of the disputed territory and secret speeches between radio announcements.

It is true that America intends to build 15 new cruisers.

But that takes time. We will be ready for any emergency provided that we get 10 years' notice.

We might get a real peace treaty by changing the routine a trifle. Harbinger an ambassador sent.

HUB IN RADIO CHAIN OVER COUNTRY

Formation of a new chain of broadcasting stations covering the entire country with outlets in the principal cities, is now being made according to Eric H. Palmer, vice president of the Allied Broadcasters. The companies which represent in the East the nucleus of the chain now known as the American Broadcasting Company on the west coast.

Local coverage will be had from a 100-watt transmitter in the outskirts of Boston which will be fed from key stations in New York and on the west coast.

Adolph F. Lind, president of the Pagan Sound Savings and Loan Association and owner of the Cambridge Hotel in Seattle, is the president of the new chain.

At present the company owns and operates four stations in the West: KFA, San Francisco; KJLH, Seattle, which will be the key station for the West; KRCR, Portland, Oregon; and KGK, Reno, Nevada. The company holds options or leases on other stations on the west coast.

Included in this group are KMTZ, Los Angeles; KILZ, Denver; and KYLD, Salt Lake City. In addition arrangements have been made with station WJLB, WCCU, WCHS and WJLA, in the vicinity of New York city, to buy or lease these stations as the nucleus of the eastern end of the chain.

SACRED MUSIC IN THE TONIGHT

BY FRED TOYE
Radio Editor
THE SOLEMNITY of Good Friday pervades tonight's radio broadcasts in large measure. At least three important features—Dante's, one of the most popular young women in Hollywood, and now he is about to be starred by Columbia Pictures. With him working as a radio star, and Ben bringing in the weekly pay check, it looks as if the loquacious Danish beach house will be supported in the style to which it is accustomed. Ben should be a fortunate choice for the part, as the character of Harry Colin as his starring vehicle, is a far from ideal one. Stetson Mason is back again in the screen limelight, playing the frugal head, and Jackie Robinson is one of the important players. At least the director and his team are a special. That's all I know.

DUBOIS CANTATA
Hardly less important, and even more strictly religious in character, is the Columbia presentation of Louis' "Seven Last Words" with soloists, chorus and orchestra. This will be heard at 8 o'clock. Again, in the Kodak Hour, featuring Helen and Crooks, then, we find the "Paraphrase" of Good Friday music played by the orchestra. This feature comes at 10:30, ending the service of a mixed crowd of soloists.

CONFIDENTIAL DANCE

8:00-WNAC—Walton Concert. Chorus, sacred and classical music.

8:00-WEEI—Chorus. Sacred. One of radio's real features reserved to be called "Good Friday."

8:00-WNAC—Lenten Chorus. Special Columbia presentation of Dante's "Seven Last Words of Christ."

8:30-WBZ—Armstrong Quakers. Lively tunes adequately quakers.

8:30-WNAC—Vedol Hour. Elsie Bledsoe, orchestra and trio in light program.

9:00-WNAC—True Story Hour. A popular Friday night hour of emotion.

9:30-WBZ—Wigley Review. If you don't like this one there's something wrong with your antenna.

9:30-WEEI—An Evening in Paris. Special Good Friday program with the usual cast plus Louis Duval, new French tenor.

9:30-WBZ—Philco Theater. Memories. A little better than almost everything else on the air.

9:30-WEEI—Schneiderman Band. Arthur Pryor's players including a hick-frenzy fiddler's band.

10:00-WEEI—Fox Fur Trappers. Local program of professional quality. Return to the coast for some time show, April 4.

10:00-WBZ—Kodak Program. Dramatic recitation of "The Good Friday" by Richard Crooks, tenor; fiddler, Jack Warner has it. It is known that this does not mean that Milton is not in any way out of the picture. He has said time and time again that he is at Milton and will return to Hollywood there will be a place for them on the First National show—and Jack Warner kept his word. Frank Lloyd will direct this picture.

I GATHER NEWS from Hollywood that things are moving at the various studios. With William Fox coming out and definitely stating that his company will make no more silent pictures, it is pretty definitely established that talkies are here to stay.

Louis Brandeis, I hear, is playing a role at First National in "Hard to Get." I have to admit that this is "Classified," for it seems so silly to give it such a name. Chester Conklin has been located at Paramount where he is cast in "Staircase" of Bartlett, Louis, husband of Harriet Louise, one of the best photographs in this country, and has been a series of two-reelers for "Titanic."

LOOKS AS IF Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer has a big success in "The Trial of Mary Dugan." That's the new story we have been hearing about Norman Shearer's performance for months, but often an advance notice is given, and in this case we can only say that it seems to us, as we have been remarkably conservative with their production.

We could be much more superlative about Norma. The opening cast of the picture was real ever and while New York does not get as excited over its most promising actress as we do in Hollywood, there were many who were impressed with her performance. It is the latest talkies of the day.
